"Sprightly Sebastopol"

-- a "lively burg"

[1891- April 1895]

COURIERLETS.

Hibbard's rheumatic sirup will cure you.

The Jabez Faught estate has been appraised at $20,711 50.

The Eunice Goodrich company will give a matinee Saturday.

Jos. Naylor.—For good goods in confectionery he can't be beat.

C. G. Jahn has established a white laundry on the corner of Fourth and C streets.

We had a lively little "shake up" at 12:05 Friday noon. The vibrations were north and south.

The Eunice Goodrich Company opened to a full house Monday night and will remain here during the week.

Hot water rubber bottles for rheumatic, neuralgic and other pains; for a full line go to Trenholtz's drug store.

The St. Helena Star is one of our newsiest exchanges, and shows its enterprise in its fine holiday edition.

Go to the City Store for high-test kerosene oil. Each can has an Excelsior filler, which is most convenient. Prices low.

Some of our street crossings exist only in name. Now that we are having a little rain, their absence is noticable to pedestrians.

Victor Piezzi of Sebastopol furnishes the Durham bull given as the first prize to subscribers of l'Ellecia, published in San Francisco.

The Home Journal plant has moved to Alton from Hydesville. Hamaboldt Co. Short nippin' at Hydesville was the cause of the change of pasture.

The receipts of the county treasurer's office during December were $7,643; disbursements $22,964 28. Balance on hand January 1, 1891, $31,723 07.

If you want something nice for the hair use Towne's Golden Hair tonic. It never fails to make it grow luxuriantly, and keeps the scalp clean and healthy.

When in San Francisco visit the panorama of the Battle of Gettysburg and museum, corner market and 10th street, the only panorama on exhibition in the city.

We have in our day seen a red-headed man—yea, even a red-headed editor, but never until we gazed on the Vacaville Reporter of January 1, 1891, did we see a red-headed newspaper.

J. Tuttle, a farmer in this vicinity.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

Monday, January 5th.—The old board assembled at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning and adjourned immediately after the minutes were read and approved.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The new board assembled at 1 P. M., the following members present: M. K. Cady, B. Clark, James A. Mead, F. A. Smith and John Sales.

Clerk Juilliard announced that the first business in order was the election of chairman, whereupon Supervisor Sales nominated Frank R. Smith, and Supervisor Clark-nominated James A. Mead.

The first ballot resulted: Mead 2, Smith 2, blank 1.

Supervisor Mead declined the nomination before the second ballot, which, with the third ballot, resulted the same as the first.

On the fourth ballot Mr. Smith was elected by receiving the blank vote.

The entire afternoon session was taken up with the consideration of roadmasters' reports, and the following were received and placed on file, and the accompanying bills allowed:

D W Long, Vallejo.....	$212 52
John Johnson, Bloomfield.....	160 00
Charles Faircl, Sebastopol.....	38 75
Gallant Bains, Petaluma.....	105 15
C C Rosebrough, Cloverdale.....	67 08
W F Harris, Washington.....	21 25
C J Parkinson, Mendocino.....	89 25
A K Bell, Healdsburg.....	60 25
H A Russell, Fulton.....	120 62
C Y Caldwell, Santa Rosa.....	73 40
Sam Varner, Redwood.....	151 54

On motion of Mr. Mead the sum of $24 25 was ordered transferred from the road fund to the Cloverdale road fund.

BARGAINS IN DAIRY RANCHES

The Courier has for sale several dairy, stock, and sheep ranches. Hereafter we will from time to time, the cheapest small ones, to be found in all the county, up to 100 acres, with some of 2,000 acres, as good as the best, having on it 100 acres of choice, level, and rolling farming land, and 100 acres of choice fruit land, nothing better or cheaper any where, which will be subdivided into any sized tracts to suit the purchaser. One of 200 acres, a fine sheep and stock ranch with 1,500 French Prunes in bearing. These will be sold on easy terms. 1,000 acres in Marin County, no better dairy any where, with fine improvements. Right now is the time to buy dairies. Butter, it is true, is, and has been low, but it is going to be high. The price of butter in a great measure depends on immigration, and the signs of the times are that the next two years will see California constantly overrun with home-seekers. We can furnish you a home at any price or for any purpose. Address, The Courier.

One acre, one of 10 acres, with small house, splendid spring of water, 10 acres in cultivation. In the best fruit growing section of Sonoma County for only $800, only two and a half miles from railroad station.

Two Acres. On good county road, with 50 acres of the choicest of fruit land in this, Sonoma, county, and in the best climate, one and a half miles from an explosion. Prompt efforts prevented the loss of her home. It may be that the associated press has made a slight mis- in the initials and that the Mrs. Cox referred to is our former resident, Mrs. W. E. Cox. As the family moved from here to Riverside, there is ground for that possibility. We trust that the supposition will not turn out to be fact.

Newell Vanderbilt of Tomales, was in Petaluma Wednesday.

Gallant Rains was in Santa Rosa Thursday.

Fred Hayes of Petaluma, was the guest of Horace Ables of Tomales, last week.

Mrs. Henry M. Stanley is so very tall and Mr. Stanly is so very short that when they are out together and are seen from a distance he looks like a little boy out with his mother. The New York ladies who have seen Mrs. Stanley all agree that she does not make any effort to appear less tall than she is. Her straight, clinging skirts, long waists, hair puffed high on top, tall hat on top of that, and feathers surmounting all add at least nine inches of unnecessary length to her figure. Mrs. Stanley has been taken of as a beauty, but it is the keen intelligence that shines in her great eyes which wins her the greatest admiration.

New York Sun.

Miss Mac Wickersham was present at the Inaugural ball at Sacramento Friday night.

A pleasant euchre party took place at the residence of City Marshal F. M. Collins on the evening of Tuesday week. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cox, Professor and Mrs. L. S. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Naylor, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Show, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. John Camm, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Brainerd, Miss Maude Brainerd, Miss Daisy Show, Herbert Show, Dr. Thos. MacLay, Harry Cox and Ellison Worth.

Peggy saw rather a queer sight Saturday morning; that is queer for any other town than Petaluma. A man held in his left hand $1 50 in bright coin of the realm, which he was trying to persuade another man to take, even backing up his persuasions by the force of cold steel in the shape of a revolver grasped in his left hand. And as if that were not enough, the other man, seeing the wealth held out to him, refused to accept the coin. Truly Petaluma must be prospering when such sights as these are common on our streets. Here we cannot take money away, try as we will. However we might state that there are with her mother in that city. An organist of the Congregational church in Petaluma, she showed her ability in that direction.

A five o'clock tea is being held at the residence of Mrs. F. W. Lougee this afternoon, for the benefit of St John's church.

Why are there not more visitors to our public library and reading rooms on Sunday? Perhaps it may not be generally known that the reading room is open on that day from ten o'clock in the morning till four in the afternoon; the library room is open from one till four, every Sunday afternoon. A pleasanter place for an hour's quiet reading could not be found. No books will be exchanged on that day.

W. M. Watson of Petaluma was registered at the Grand, San Francisco, Saturday.

Rev. Mr. Few was a visitor to San Francisco the first of last week.

Union prayer meeting will be held in the Baptist church tomorrow night, Rev. John Downie presiding.

R. H. Long of San Francisco was in town Saturday.

Mrs. Byrne formerly Miss Helen Graves, is the guest of Mrs. Ackerman and daughters, while her husband is attending to some business in Ukiah.

Mrs. Andrew Fletcher of Santa Rosa, well known among our educators as Miss Gertrude Kuffle, is spending a few days in Petaluma.

Mrs. Murray of San Francisco has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Capt. Smith for the last week.

Miss Maggie Rodeck will spend three or four months with her sister in Novato.

Miss Lillie Smith visited San Francisco friends last week.

Marriage is a little expensive in France. The bride must have two wedding dresses, one when she signs the civil contract and the other when the religious ceremony is performed.

Miss Belle Donnington, who has been ill for a week with tonsilitis, has so far recovered as to be at her post again.

Mrs. Edminister is visiting San Francisco friends.

Miss Laura Perrott of Eureka is the guest of Mrs. J. F. Ingalls of this city.

O. T. Baldwin was a visitor to Santa Rosa Saturday.

BLOOMFIELD ITEMS

Bloomfield, January 12, 1891.
I hear the readers of the Courier are anxious to have a few items from our usually quiet town, and as we are all apt to make good resolutions at the beginning of the new year, have made a resolve that Bloomfield shall improve the coming year, that is, it praising it will do any good. I believe in booming up the town you live in, and as other small towns send items, I think this place is worthy of notice.
The farmers are happy over this fine weather, and all prophesy a prosperous year for them; therefore we are anticipating a bright future, for if the farmer prosper the merchants will.

Mrs. Myria Davis died at the home of her sister, Mrs. O. E. Colburn, last Friday at 5 A. M., after a lingering illness of that dreaded disease, consumption.
She leaves a husband, two sisters and a brother to mourn her loss. She came to this place from the state of Iowa for the benefit of her health, and with the thought in her mind that if by so doing she could not prolong her stay in this poor world, she would at least have the consolation of being cared for during her last hours by her sister, whom she had not seen for nearly thirty years. The funeral services were held in the M. E. church at 11 A. M. Sunday, and conducted by the Rev. Mr. Ewing.

On Monday of last week the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Knapp was the scene of an old time dinner party, which always causes a warm glow of pleasure to spread through the circle of friends, and brings to the surface that beautiful feeling of unity, which is too often lost sight of in the great struggle of life.
The event was in honor of the thirty-eighth birthday of the host, who has resided in our midst nearly all his life, and has a host of friends. After an hour spent in pleasant conversation the guests repaired to the diningroom where they partook of a most bountiful and sumptuous repast, after which they departed to their respective homes. All joined heartily in praising the worthy efforts of the hostess, and wishing jolly and genial Gen. many happy returns of the occasion.

Following are the names of those present: Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hubbell, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Eastman, Mr. and Miss Amanda Hunsbaw of Santa Rosa spent Wednesday in town.

It was with sorrow we obeyed the summons to attend the funeral of little Milia, the eldest daughter of Morris Poggi of San Rafael, formerly of this place, who was released from a long and lingering illness by death, January 8th.
She was a granddaughter of Mrs. C.
Thomey of English Hill. Aged eleven years, four months. The body was interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of her mother who died about nine years ago. H.

Cold nights and mornings.
Farmers' Alliance organized with several members Saturday.
Odd Fellows had a big supper and installation Saturday night.
Barnes' brick block is progressing finely. The brick work is about completed.
Elliot & Berry are building a fine Joss house for the Chinamen.
Brown is building another residence on his addition to town.
Aaron Barnes will soon commence another brick block.
B. B. Berry, an old citizen of this town, was stricken with paralysis. He is very low. His age is about eighty-three.
Mrs. W. N. Elliot is confined to her home by sickness.
Mrs. E. G. Wilson is visiting in the city.

Ben Forsythe and Sam Hall of Santa Rosa were on our streets Sunday.
Hollis Hitchcock of Bodega is visiting John Walker.
A Chinese shooting scrape in Chinatown happened last night. The one shot

A young woman living with her parents near this city, fell in love with a brave butcher boy, but he was adamantine and returned not her love. Then she thought laudanum was the correct thing, but not being a chemist, she was not posted as to the quantity necessary to produce that oblivion which yields not to the persuasions of the materialistic, and the result was that she still lives. She committed the rash act last Wednesday, so it is to be supposed that she has had time to thank her lucky stars that her efforts to launch her soul into the fathomless beyond were futile.

6x8 feet. It is said by knowing ones that its location is such as to make it impossible to turn the drawbridge. Thereby hangs a tale.

A Fourth street man's horse ran away a few days ago, and, at considerable peril to his life, a young fellow took after the animal, and by dint of great speed and strength succeeded in capturing it, and brought it and the delivery wagon back to the owner uninjured. In appreciation of the valuable services the driver of the rig told him that if he would go with him he would "shake" with him for the drinks. —Republican.

Part of the Wickersham ranch, one mile north of Sanger, was sold yesterday by Frank P. Wickersham to S. N. Straube, M. L. Woy, Wm. Shields and G. M. Straube. The tract sold contains 160 acres, constituting the northeast quarter of section 10, township 14 south, range 22 east. The consideration was $100 per acre. Mr. Wickersham retains an interest in the tract and he and his four associates will immediately have the whole of it planted to Muscat grapevines and make other extensive improvements in the way of buildings, &c. —Fresno Expositor.

Judge B. B. Berry of Sebastopol has been stricken with paralysis. His right side and face are affected, and he has not the power of speech. Owing to his advanced age, 80 years, it is doubtful if he recovers from the attack. In speaking of the old gentleman, the Tribune says:

"He was an intimate friend and companion of Abraham Lincoln when a young man, they serving together in the Blackhawk Indian war. Mrs. Berry is the oldest daughter of Rev. John Cameron, with whose family Lincoln made his home in early life. The union of Mr. Berry and Miss Cameron took place before Lincoln's marriage, and he was a guest at their wedding.

S. D. Towne has just received from eastern and northern growers and agents a full line of fresh (crop of 1890) garden seeds, including all kinds of small seeds, sweet corn, beans, peas and fancy grasses. An experience of thirty-five years has taught the people of Sonoma county that seeds bought at Towne's drug store are always fresh, reliable and true to names; seeds while bought from dealers who sell California seeds sent out by commission houses often bring disappointment and loss to the purchasers.

Mrs. A. Stump is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Pearson of San Francisco.

Dr. J. J. Hackett of Markham's was in town Saturday.

Mrs. Douglas of Santa Rosa was the guest of Mrs. McCrea Friday.

Wade Malone of San Francisco, one of Sonoma county's ex-teachers, was up Wednesday renewing his acquaintanceship.

Mamie Stump is visiting friends in San Francisco.

Mrs. Richie and her son Robert spent Sunday in town.

Dr. Stevens of Tomales was over Friday looking after the sick folks.

Miss Mary B. Adams of Petaluma, who has secured the position of teacher in the Bay district, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. McCaughey.

Sam Boyd is seriously ill with pleurisy.

A Swissman whose name your correspondent failed to obtain, received a bite from a tarantula last Monday, which resulted in his death. He was digging post holes on a ranch belonging to Henry Stump, and was cleaning the holes out with his hands. He struck his hand against a stone, causing a slight wound and at the same instant the tarantula bit it. He did not know at the time that he was bitten, but before he reached the house his arm was swollen to an incredible size. He was taken to Tomales and every thing done to save his life, but every effort proved fruitless, and in a few hours after reaching Tomales he died. The tarantula was found crushed to death between the stones where he had been working.

A. Ceregino is making some improvements in his saloon on the east side of Main street.

They are talking about building a railroad from Santa Rosa to the Summit of Taylor mountain.

Michael Eyraud, murderer of Notary B. Gouffe, was guillotined in Paris yesterday morning.

A petition is in circulation for the permanent closing of the Washington street drawbridge.

The new stock is very attractive indeed and so are the new prices. Where? Why at Campbell's.

The enterprising firm of A. L. Whitney & Co. has received an immense shipment of teas direct from Japan.

Hot water rubber bottles for rheumatic, neuralgic and other pains; for a full line go to Trenholtz's drug store. *

Mr. Hamil, a former resident of Geyserville, has purchased the orchard land of D. Leppo, and will make that place his home again.

It is said that there is a probability of a large fruit cannery being established in Sebastopol in time for the coming fruit crop.

Go to the City Store for high-test kerosene oil. Each can has an Excelsior filler, which is most convenient. Prices low.

J. Campbell has just made his line of boots and shoes complete, and is prepared to compete with the best of them in quality and price.

A. L. Whitney & Co's. store is packed to its utmost capacity with a choice selection of teas, expressly imported for this firm.

W. H. Hayes has leased through Geo. C. Coddington, the large and elegant home at the head of B street, owned by Geo. Pearce.

Call and see those children's shoes which J. Campbell has made for his own trade, for durability and cheapness they have no equal.

The minstrel parade Saturday noon was witnessed by a large crowd, and the music which never fails to attract was up to the best standard.

A. L. Whitney has sold to Count Valenssen, the well-known horseman, his two-year-old filly, Duchess. It is said that the price paid was $3,500.

W. W. Jones has given up the proprietorship of the Sebastopol Times and has moved to San Francisco with his wife and taken a position there.

The largest single shipment of tea ever brought to Sonoma county, has just been received direct from Japan by A. L. Whitney & Co. of this city.

Allen, F. W. Lougee and J. T. Lougee were chosen.

A great many fine dogs have suffered this season with a severe form of distemper. This disease which has caused the death of so many valuable animals need no longer be feared by dog fanciers, for S. D. Towne is making Dog Distemper pills; one box of which will cure the worst cases of distemper. The price is only twenty-five cents a box.

The light-footed gentry have been taking moonlight walks about our beautiful city, lately, and not content with such recreation, have in two or three cases entered the homes of some of our citizens at unseemly hours, and taken away a little souvenir of affection without the knowledge of the dwellers therein. Evidently the marauders are new to the business for they are so clumsy in their attempts, that the noise they make usually arouses the inmates of the house.

Three little boys have been caught in the act of stealing meat from C. Poehlmann & Co's slaughter house. The parents of the youngsters are really more culpable than the children themselves for allowing them to roam abroad at night (when the theft was committed) instead of keeping them where they should be—at home and abed. This ought to prove a lesson to both parents and children and probably, this is the last we will hear of such folly not to call it by a harsher name.

S. D. Towne has just received from eastern and northern growers and agents a full line of fresh (crop of 1890) garden seeds, including all kinds of small seeds, sweet corn, beans, peas and fancy grasses. An experience of thirty-five years has taught the people of Sonoma county that seeds bought at Towne's drug store are always fresh, reliable and true to names, while seeds bought from dealers who sell California seeds sent out by commission houses often bring disappointment and loss to the purchasers.

A petition is being circulated asking the city trustees to have the houses numbered in a systematic manner—one number to every twenty-five feet front or something similar and definite. An attempt was made some years ago by private individuals to number the houses, but as it was done without system and only in a portion of our city, the result was worse than if it had not been done at all, for as a guide, it was anything but satisfactory. If rightly done it would be a good thing for the city, and a necessary step should we have a free delivery system given our postoffice.

Torrence Mosier, a seventeen-year-old Santa Rosa boy wants to be sent to the penitentiary. He has pleaded guilty to burglary, and been sentenced to four years in Folsom prison. His mind is completely filled with the effects of dime novel reading. He has been previously convicted of petty larceny. His father in Mendocino county has disowned him.

North Pacific Coast Railroad Agent J. J. Clark at San Rafael was attacked by two desperadoes recently. Mr. Clark had a gun which he turned on his assailants and so disturbed their equanimity by it that they turned tail and fled. Mr. Clark wants all desperadoes to understand that he has a small armory in his office which he will use in the defense of his life and property.

Attention is called to the reorganization of the firm Evans Bros., under the firm name Evans Bros. & Co., notice of which appears in today's Courier. This firm is so well-known for its first-class workmanship, honorable dealing and strict attention to orders received that it has built up as fine a business as any in the county. The marble work, cemetery work, etc., already done by Evans Bros. is a good proof of their ability.

The running of but one train a day on the Sebastopol branch has so interfered with the arrangements of the Sebastopol people in mail matters, that they are about to take steps to petition the government to take the mail away from the railway company and give it back to the learned disquisition on our national complaint, constipation, says:—

The great quantity of cathartic pills, etc., which are annually swallowed by the people of this country has been productive of immensely more mischief than is generally suspected. True, the physic unloads the bowels, but in so doing its action tends to diminish the tone of the intestines; so that, instead of removing the costiveness, it aggravates it, leaving the bowels in a more torpid condition.

Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla was designed to fill just such a contingency as the doctor's arraignment anticipates, viz.: instead of being a powerful mineral purgative, it is a mild vegetable laxative, that, owing to its solvent and gentle stimulating properties, is so certain a relief in constipation that it has been given away to hundreds, not to be paid for unless it was of positive benefit. It replaces constipation almost immediately with a natural easy habit, and is so mild that, unlike drastic purgatives, it can be taken indefinitely with perfect freedom and safety.

THE NEW DISCOVERY.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any throat, lung or chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottles free at S. D. Towne's drugstore.

ific railway? The night hawks who have made timid citizens sleep with one eye open, have concluded that the game was not worth the candle, and we now breathe more freely. Peggy used to carefully take up stairs her one silver spoon and silver mug—sole remaining relics of a childhood now so far in the dim past. Then she would carefully place a pail of water on the ragged edge of the top stair for the purpose of cooling the ardor of an ascending burglar. The plan failed, however, in its proper carrying out, as in a fit of absent-mindedness, poor Peggy received the contents intended for the marauder as she was going up late one night after—only a "Pinafore" rehearsal, my dears.

Miss Gertrude Matthews of San Francisco has been visiting of Miss Anna Saul. Mrs. N. King has returned from a visit in Stockton. Mrs. Frank Haney has returned from San Francisco accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Rugg.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

A coal deposit has been discovered near Healdsburg.

The Sebastopol public school is to have a new twenty-five pound bell.—Republican.

It is reported that $30,000 has been offered for the Pacific Yacht club house and grounds in Sausalito.

A pile-driver crew has been repairing bridges and culverts on the railroad between Healdsburg and Cloverdale.

Albert Gibson of Napa has been found guilty of assault with intent to commit murder as charged, and sentenced to three years in San Quentin.

A horse was stolen from the barn of Joseph Noyes of Napa, and a set of harness from James F. Zollner Wednesday night. The thieves have not been found.

The Pacific Yacht club of Sausalito has disincorporated, owing to financial difficulties, but it is thought that it will get together again before long in different shape.

There are less than a dozen vacant houses in San Rafael, which is exceptional for the winter season in that summer home of the wealthy business men of San Francisco.

Mrs. Brown of Santa Rosa, who was attending an evening party at the residence of Robert Ross, recently slipped and fell while dancing, breaking the larger bone of the leg.

Cloverdale has one Chinaman—a laundrymen in her precincts. Ever since the bitter feeling against the race in that town some years ago, it has had no representative there.

The family of R. E. Lochman of Napa are all down with diphtheria. Ernest, the two-year-old son died Wednesday and the mother and two other children are very ill.

The Italian-Swiss colony near Cloverdale is working large forces of men in the vineyards and orchards, replanting and trimming. The colony has about 600 acres of vines under cultivation.

McKenzie Davis, an old resident of Santa Rosa dropped dead Thursday morning at the county hospital, where he was engaged as a cook. Heart disease was the cause of his death.

The city marshal of Santa Rosa has preferred charges against two policeman. The grounds of the charges are that the officers disobey orders. The city council is investigating the charges.

The examination of J. W. Scott of Napa, charged with attempting to murder John Vaughn, was held before Justice Bowen on Saturday. He was held to answer before the superior court, with bail fixed at $5,000.

Hugh J. Lynch, a guard at San Quentin, accidentally shot and killed himself Friday evening while pulling his gun up a staircase when going on duty. The trigger struck and discharged the contents in his back.

Patrick McFadden, a Sonoma coachman, who has achieved considerable notoriety in the courts lately, has been sentenced to two years in the state prison for bigamy, and his wife in Sonoma has been arrested on a similar charge.

C. F. Juilliard's distillery in Sebastopol was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. Loss, $2,000; no insurance. There had been no fire in the building for some time and all the circumstances point conclusively to an incendiary origin.

Mischievous boys in San Rafael smeared the doorknobs of most of the business houses on Fourth street with tar the his back. He lived about forty-eight hours. He was a distant relative of Colonel Hardin of Santa Rosa, and was staying on the Colonel's ranch when he met his death.

As George Wilcox of this city was using a sharp carving knife a few days ago, the instrument slipped and cut a deep wound in the cap of his left knee. He thought nothing of the gash until Monday, when erysipelas set in and when medical aid was summoned the case was found to be very serious.—Healdsburg Tribune.

It is our sad duty to chronicle today the death of another member of the Lochman family. Emma, the nine-year-old daughter, died Thursday night, from the same disease that carried off their other two children. The loss of their entire family of three bright children within a single week has nearly prostrated the bereaved parents, who have the deepest sympathy of all.—Napa Journal.

An ambitious young steer, the pride of farmer Tate residing south of here, rashly endeavored to dispute the right of way with veteran engineer Brown, on his trip to Santa Rosa last Sunday evening. The bovine possessed a great deal more pluck than judgment, and it is needless to remark that he now sleeps quietly under a little mound of earth erected over his carcass on the following morning by the section gang.—Index Tribune.

There was considerable excitement during the week in regard to the Chinamen who have taken up their unwelcome abode among us. Their wash house was bombarded Monday night, breaking the windows, and Tuesday the Chinamen were armed to defend themselves against another attack. That night some one representing himself to be the marshal's assistant took a shot gun and rifle from them on the pretense that better ones would be given them.—Cloverdale Record.

The following named gentlemen of Santa Rosa have organized a temporary trotting association for the purpose of holding a race for two-year-olds at Pierce's driving park some time in August or September: W. A. Finlaw, T. J. Ludwig, Geo. T. Trowbridge, Geo. E. Guerne, R. Murphy, C. C. Bemis, M. Roney, A. McFadyen, M. Streimling, I. DeTurk, M. L. McDonald, George Lock, Ira Pierce. The next meeting will be held in the parlors of the Grand hotel, Tuesday. Each one of the gentleman have agreed to pay $50 to make up a purse.—Democrat.

SEBASTOPOL, March 2, 1891.

Our orchard men are busy spraying and pruning. The rains have put them back with the work, yet if the rain holds off a few days longer, they will be nearly through; but it is threatening rain tonight. There is not a dry weather prophet to be found; a few weeks ago the woods were full of them. I have been in Sonoma county since '57 and never saw a season but that we had rain enough for crops. We have our usual number of growlers, but crop prospects are good. Some peach trees are in bloom in Sebastopol.

Hutchins McBoyle

A beautiful wedding took place in San Francisco last Wednesday at the First Congregational church, in which Clinton J. Hutchins and Miss Minnie C. McBoyle were the contracting parties. Mr. Hutchins passed his boyhood in this city, where his father, Rev. C. J. Hutchins, was pastor of the Congregational church for many years. Miss McBoyle is the daughter of Alexander McBoyle, a prominent San Francisco gentleman. Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Shepherd of this city, grandparents of the groom, attended the wedding. Mr. Hutchins has a position with the hardware firm of E. V. Skillman & Co. of New York, and the young couple departed for that city immediately after the ceremony.

A 750 pound bell is a new addition to the Healdsburg Catholic church.

Will Harmon and his brother Solomon, were shot and fatally wounded by James Capell, a saloon keeper in Laytonville, Mendocino county, on March 11th over a dispute about paying for whisky.

On the 6 P. M. trip of the Sausalito ferryboat Wednesday, an unknown man jumped overboard and was drowned in the bay. He was about fifty years of age, gray haired, and was neatly dressed and wore a silk hat.

The alarm bell of Healdsburg was sounded for a lost woman, Mrs. Allen, on the night of Friday week. In a state of temporary insanity she had wandered away from home, but was found at a friend's house.

Little Si. Hickok, a lad five years of age, while out driving with his aunt, Mrs. C. Hickok, last Friday, fell out of the buggy and the wheels passed over his body. The child sustained no injury whatever, strange to say. Healdsburg Tribune.

A heartless wretch threw a paper of cayenne pepper through a window into the Salvation army barracks last Friday evening, which fell in the face of a little girl and nearly caused the loss of her eyesight. She was a daughter of one of the army. Sebastopol Times.

"It isn't life's purple and gold, dear,
That makes it best worth living;
Not always the very costliest gifts
Are dearest and best worth giving;
The heart that beats in truest time
With the music of creation,
Is happier far than his whose will
Can make or mar a nation."

Mrs. M. Piche of San Francisco has been spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sweetser and Mrs. Atherton came from Novato Saturday.

Mrs. Martha Jones of Sebastopol was a visitor to Petaluma Saturday.

Mrs. C. H. E. Hardin, daughter-in-law of Col. Hardin, died in San Francisco on the 30th of March. Her bereaved husband, who has many friends here, has the sympathy of all.

William C. Hunt of Hunt Bros. Packing company of Santa Rosa was married to Miss May Litchfield, a highly esteemed young lady of Sebastopol.

All the indications for the opera of Pinafore are most encouraging. The rehearsals have been thoroughly carried out in every detail, the music has received the most careful attention, and it will doubtless be an entertainment well worth seeing in itself, not to take into consideration the worthy object for which it is given—the new St. John's church. Seats are being sold at a rapid rate, and the reduction in the price seems to have been a good move.

R. H. Long of San Francisco was in town Saturday.

Samuel E. Watson of Orchard and Farm spent Thursday and Friday in this city.

Bishop Wingfield was entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Shepherd Sunday.

Rev. H. H. Wilcox of Grass Valley was the guest of Rev. John Partridge Sunday.

Mrs. Kate Treuholtz sang the offertory "Calvary" by Paul Rodney at the dedication services of St. John's church Sunday. It was a most beautiful rendering of a beautiful composition.

their masters. In the German, which was the dance of the evening, some appropriate figures were introduced, including "The Rakes," "The Milkpail," "The Wheelbarrow" and others, which were carried out in an admirable and needless to say novel manner.

Petaluma put on its festal garb yesterday, partly in honor of Pinafore and partly to show hospitality to the visiting Native Sons, who will be here the last of the week. Two large flags are suspended across Main street; one the Bear flag so closely identified with our country's history, the other, the stars and stripes that float over our whole broad land, while between this grand guard the Pinafore announcement waves in the breeze.

It will be a pity if San Francisco must do without the park music on Sundays, and yet it may be the case, because the Powell street railway declines to further continue the arrangement into which three of the leading lines entered, in the matter. Possibly the park authorities may step into the breach and make up the amount lost by the withdrawal of the Powell street road, but until the matter is adjusted, there will be no music in the park, save the gentle brayings of the burros.

The Whist club held a very pleasant session Thursday evening at the residence of H. T. Fairbanks. The whole house was thrown open by the hospitable entertainers, and the guests unite in saying that it was one of the most pleasant occasions in the memory of the club.

J. R. Leppo, deputy district attorney, was in town Friday in attendance at some court matter. Mr. Leppo is a graduate from our high school and we watch with interest his rapid strides in the path of Coke and (the other) Blackstone.

Hon. T. J. Geary has been paying Petaluma friends a visit. It is very evident that his recent elevation has not made him forget his old home or its people.

Miss Kate Denman paid a brief visit to San Francisco last week.

"A Son of Old Harry," is the unique title of a story by Judge Tourgee, which is running in the New York Ledger.

We have received the annual register of the university of California. Containing the names of the faculty and students, the courses, etc.

The Farmer and Dealer of San Francisco has changed its name, and is now being issued as the California Fruit Exporter and Farmer. The Rices have severed their connection with the paper, and it is hereafter to be published by Scott & Woods. The makeup has been changed, a new dress purchased and its appearance much improved.

The most notable article of all in the Decorator and Furnisher is the continuation of the subject of "The Modern House, Its Decoration and Furniture. The illustrations given show the highest development of modern decorative art. There is also a description of the textile art-work that is being done by the associated artists of New York, and there are illustrations of original designs for chairs and bedroom furniture.

Baron Hirsch, the renowned financier and philanthropist, has consented to explain for the North American Review at a very early date, the principles which have animated him in the distribution of his princely philanthropies. His views have special pertinence at the present time because of the important discussion on the "Responsibilities of Wealth," which is being carried on in the pages of the Review by such eminent authorities as Cardinal Gibbons, Prof. Ely, Bishop Potter, Hon. Edward J. Phelps, and the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain.

The fourteenth annual report of the American Humane association has arrived at this office. Fifty-five subordinate associations out of two hundred and fifty societies in the United States and Canada had sent in reports showing that during the year there had been made in these fifty-five societies, 18,393 complaints of cruelty to children; 4,300 prosecutions and 4,100 convictions. There were over 20,000 children relieved during the year. There were nearly 20,000 complaints of cruelty to animals, with 1,300 prosecutions and 1,200 convictions. There were 38,500 animals relieved. The society does a noble work.

In the Overland Monthly for May and June will be published a series of historical papers selected from the private papers of the late Senator Gwin, and telling, in original documents, the story of his famous attempt to persuade the Emperors Napoleon III, and Maximilian to adopt his scheme of bringing a mining population into Sonora and Chihuahua under the protection of the French troops. The papers are memorials and private letters to the emperors, and to other public men, and letters the senator wrote to his wife and daughter giving his impressions of

The San Jose races closed Wednesday week.

Agua Caliente springs are open for the season.

O. W. Craig, an old resident of Sonoma valley, died Thursday, aged eighty two years.

San Rafael has profited by our example and will have a drinking fountain. It will be placed in the court house square.

It is said that insurance companies refuse to take risks on Tiburon property, owing to lack of facilities for extinguishing fires.

Sebastopol is to have a fine engine. It already has a fine new opera house. Hereafter there are to be two daily trains. Verily Sebastopol is booming.

J. B. Badger, a pioneer of California and a Mexican war veteran, died Wednesday at his home near Sonoma, of paralysis, after a lingering illness.

The man who committed suicide at Corte Madera station has been identified as J. C. Wilson, a commercial traveler in the employ of Isadore Elbe & Co., diamond dealers of New York city.

The Presbytery of Benicia was in session in Napa last week, with some twenty-five members in attendance. Rev. Duncan Munro of Point Arena has been elected moderator and William H. Darden of Petaluma, clerk and treasurer.

A second crop of tramps, probably the vernal output from the metropolis, has been passing through San Rafael during the last few days. They seem harmless enough and have the well fed air of gentry who have passed the winter in the luxurious retirement of county jails.—Tocsin.

After waiting over a quarter of a century, we are pleased to announce to the citizens of Sebastopol and vicinity that Postmaster Gannon is now ready to issue money orders or postal notes. The Times filled the first money order sent off, and rejoices with the good citizens in their having an aggressive postmaster.—Sebastopol Times.

Alexander Edmunds, a farmer living near Calpella, Mendocino county, lost his life by an accident Saturday week. He had alighted from his wagon to fix the bridle on one of his horses, when the team became frightened and knocking him down ran away, the wheels of the wagon passing over him. He was picked up in a dying condition and soon expired.

A case of assault comes from Bennett valley, in which one John Jacobs was arrested upon complaint of Frank Leeman. Leeman claims that on Sunday night last week, as the outcome of a quarrel, Jacobs assaulted him by striking him about the head with a large piece of plank. Pending trial, which will come up Saturday morning, Jacobs was admitted to bail in the sum of $25.

W. H. Lee, while delivering a package at De Turk's winery, recently, drove into the enclosure, and, in trying to turn, his horse took fright, overturned the wagon and ran away. Mr. Lee became entangled in the lines; as the wagon turned over he managed to jump, which no doubt saved his life, as the next instant the vehicle crashed into the solid gate, badly breaking the wagon. Mr. Lee fortunately escaped with a few slight scratches.—Democrat.

Sebastopol is strongly agitating the matter of forming a volunteer fire department and also of putting in water works. A new business block was recently completed there, an opera house is to be opened shortly, and a money order department connected with the postoffice. Verily, Sebastopol's not taken yet, and her march is onward and upward.—Democrat.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hill were in San Francisco Thursday.

The A. O. U. W. picnic to Ukiah promises to attract a large crowd of excursionists.

Elmer Miller and Miss Maggie Allen were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Allen, near Sebastopol Sunday week, Rev. L. Ewing performing the ceremony. Among the relatives, four generations from each of the families were present.

"You will observe, kind reader, that women are lavish in their use of adjectives and adverbs. One of your talkative, vivacious, interesting women could no more get through the day without a big supply of them than she could exist pleasantly without sympathy. A dress pattern for instance, is never to her merely attractive. It is always "awfully pretty," or "a perfect little love of a thing," or the prettiest pattern I ever saw in my life." If she doesn't like you, you are invariably "horrid," or "dreadfully hateful," or "a mean contemptible creature." Generally speaking, in proportion as a woman is reasonable in her use of adverbs and adjectives she is masculine in character; and when she is "quite correct" she is so decidedly unwomanly—so wanting in softness, and sweetness and vivacity, that the average man doesn't at all care for her society." So says Ed J. Livernash in the Enterprise, but, dear me! He has just married a very sweet little womanly wife, and "all else beside are to" him "like shadows," so let us not count him as an unbiased judge. Only away down deep in their hearts, I'll wager that most women, "strong-minded" and otherwise, nod an emphatic yes to his assertion.

Here are a few touching lines from a moonlight somnambulist, wailed forth as he passed beneath my window one night last week:

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

A bear was killed on Dry creek a few days ago, weighing dressed, one hundred pounds.

A heavy earthquake shock lasting about six seconds was felt in San Rafael Friday evening at 6:08.

Rancho Sotoyome, near Healdsburg, is to be divided into five-acre farms and sold to small farmers.

Owners of property in Sebastopol have wisely made a stand against all overtures toward Sunday excursion picnics to their pretty town.

J. Burghouse died in Healdsburg Thursday morning, after a short illness. He was highly respected in the community, and his loss will be sincerely mourned.

John Murphy of Napa, who was convicted of murder in the second degree Saturday week, has been sentenced to twenty-five years' imprisonment at San Quentin.

Vincent Liberty, the proprietor of the summer resort known as Liberty's on the Bolinas ridge, while leaving San Rafael for home Friday, was thrown from his carriage and severely injured about the head.

Early Friday morning burglars entered a lodging house kept as an addition to the San Rafael House in that town, and secured money and clothing amounting to over $100. No trace of the burglars could be found.

Healdsburg is to have another cannery. The capital stock, $50,000, has already been subscribed, and the work of putting up the building is about to commence. It will be located opposite the depot, on ground leased from the railroad company.

The damage suit of Ada Zollner against John McDermott and Jerry O'Brien in Napa, was finished Saturday. The jury found that O'Brien owned the team and was driving it when it came into collision with Miss Zollner's rig, and gave judgment against him for $1,000.

Some substantial improvements are about to be made in Sonoma. James McMakin will erect a two-story frame building, and Fred. T. Dabney will erect a brick store in place of the old one. There has been for many years the home of his father.

The verdict in the damage suit of Jewell vs. Jewell at San Rafael has been rendered in favor of the defendant. Plaintiff claimed that the defendant, a lively stable keeper, gave him a defective rig, and in going down a grade the vehicle was overturned and the occupants seriously injured.

imitable lumber product, the durability of its wood, the beauty of burls, but we never heard of a redwood quill till we struck the ranch of Peter Hansen on Eel river island this week. One of his fields is a perfectly level piece of ground, rich and bearing a heavy crop of grass. It has the appearance of being old deposit, and a small grove of spruce trees growing in one part, which measure six to eight feet in diameter, proof that the deposit is many hundreds of years old. Near this grove, by the way, means Mr. Hansen found a large wood log imbedded two feet below surface, which upon uncovering he found to be a splendid piece of timber in a perfect state of preservation. He has cured several hundred good posts already and the "mine" appears to improve as it goes deeper. This log has lain here many hundred years, and Mr. Hansen has an idea that the whole field is underlain with a deposit of this kind. At the rate he thinks he is safe on posts. — Western Watchman.

A DOCTOR'S REBUKE.

Immensely More Mischief than is Generally Suspected.

Dr. King, the eminent medical writer, learned disquisition on our national complaint, constipation, says:—

The great quantity of cathartic pills, which are annually swallowed by the people of this country has been productive of immensely more mischief than is generally suspected. True, the physic unloads the bowels, but in doing its action tends to diminish the tone of the intestines; so that, instead of removing constiveness, it aggravates it, leaving the bowels in a more torpid condition.

Dr. King's Vermifuge Cathartic was designed for all such contingencies as the doctor's argument anticipates, viz: instead of being a powerful mineral purgative, it is a mild vegetable laxative, that, owing to its solvent, gentle stimulating properties, is so certain in its action in constipation that it has been given a something lacking and felt by the few auditors. The pianist and director seemed to find more favor in their eyes than the prima donna. Both celloist and violinist are excellent musicians; but taken as a whole, the concert was a disappointment.

Company C will parade on Decoration Day, Saturday, May 30th, as escort of Antietam Post, G. A. R., to the cemetery, where the soldiers' graves will be strewn with flowers.

Emsley Fine has bought out the butcher business of Leonard Haubrich on Main street. Mr. Haubrich retires with a whole lot of friends wishing he hadn't. Mr. Fine is too well known in his community to need words of praise.

The granite coping for the city hall steps is well advanced under the supervision of Evans Bros. & Co. Only one improvement would we respectfully suggest: That the edges be beveled on account of better wearing and a smoother finish.

A Swiss who resides in this city went to Lovato, Marin county, Sunday, to collect some money from two brothers for whom he had worked. They got into a fight and the former was badly cut with a razor about the head and face and stabbed in the breast with a knife by the two brothers.

Charge against young Walls of this city for assaulting G. H. Hoadley of Cloverdale with a deadly weapon, was returned on examination before Justice Brown in Santa Rosa yesterday, to a charge of battery to which Walls entered plea of guilty. He will appear for judgment Friday morning.

D. B. Wier will prune orchards and rubbery as they should be pruned for the best results in fine fruits, long life and the happiness of all concerned; and will so instruct others in the science. Special attention given to starting and planting young orchards right. He can be found at the Courier office.

H. L. Rawson of the Enterprise Candy Kitchen says that his object is not to carry a large stock of goods, but a good variety of fresh candy, daily made. We think Mr. Rawson knows what he is about. People do not buy a month's supply of candy at once, but a little as a luxury, and they want it good.

Leila, an excellent stepper, bred by G. Baxter of Petaluma, is now owned by O. Treadwell, the mine-owner of San Francisco. Mr. Treadwell saw the "flesh" the first time he saw her move, and he and got her. Mr. Baxter still has a half-brother to the fast filly. Petaluma numbers many among the races that go, natives of this county.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. A great many years ago, doctors pro-

The Cloverdale champagne establishment is now an assured enterprise.

Pat Guerrero is in active training at Napa, for the six-day pedestrian match to come off at Denver next month.

Sunday night William Deschast, a barber of South Vallejo, shot and fatally wounded John Smith, a stevedore.

One hundred and sixty-seven prunes were counted on a twenty-two inch twig cut from a tree on Jesse Hunt's ranch.—Sebastopol Times.

J. C. Perry, grandfather of Florence Blythe, was thrown from his carriage near San Rafael Thursday and almost instantly killed. The horses took fright at a passing train.

Neal Gillen, an old and respected citizen of Napa, died at his home Thursday. Deceased was a native of Ireland, aged fifty-five years. He had been a resident of Napa for about thirty years.

Kashaw's island, rechristened and better known as "Belvedere peninsula," was assessed last year for $15,000. That was before its change of ownership and boom. It will be assessed this year for $110,000.

Monday morning Alfreda Whittmore, eight years of age, fell into a caldron of boiling water at the White Hill ranch, near San Rafael. The little girl was so badly scalded that her life is despaired of.

A report is in circulation that that wealthy English syndicate which is now endeavoring to buy up all the important wineries in the state, is making a particular effort to purchase the must condenser at Geyserville.

On Friday the supreme court affirmed the judgment of the Sonoma county court in the case of the People vs. Geo. W. H. Bruggs, convicted of murder in the first degree, and under sentence of death for killing Dietrick Louisen of Windsor.

The hop market is in excellent condition, and the prices firm. Last year's California hops are selling in New York for 25 cents per pound. The crop in New York and Germany promises to be light this year, while on this coast a heavy yield is anticipated.—Enterprise.

Joseph Piezzi, who lives on the John Walker ranch, near Santa Rosa, came near losing his life Tuesday week. He got out of his wagon to open a gate near his residence, when the team started and in his effort to stop the horses he was thrown down, one wagon wheel striking him on the right temple and almost amputating his ear. His wound is a serious one.

The old J. H. Glenn barn in Santa Rosa was burned to the ground early Wednesday morning. All the attendant dwindled away to a skeleton, eighteen months after the accident died. An autopsy showed that not the heart but all the internal organs had been moved from their natural positions. It is inexplicable how the man lived so long.

An extraordinary blunder is reported to have been made at the recent session of the Tennessee legislature in applying the registration law to counties having a "voting population of 50,000," instead of to counties with a "population of 50,000." As no county has a voting population of 50,000 the registration law becomes invalid.

Five hundred Albany, N. Y. K. Templars are going abroad next spring to strange countries for to see, and they will ask the British government to let them wear their swords and regalia when they visit the island of the sage and fen and bitte. The home secretary says no. This invasion must not be.—Bulletin.

John Dixon of Stamford, Conn. has been driven insane by a girl's pining on a piano. Saturday afternoon he was suddenly seized with a fit and rushed up Bedford avenue, shouting and singing. At the first house where he found a lady playing a piano he seized the stone and threw it at her through the window. It barely missed the player and demolished a costly picture. Dixon was taken to the Hartford insane asylum.

The recent death, at an advanced age, of Madame Jouvin, in Grenoble, France, recalls the services her husband, Louis, did to glove-making. He invented the machine for cutting leather gloves, and introduced the machine-seamed glove-thumb. Beginning as a poor glove-maker, he died worth millions, and is honored by a statue erected to his memory by his fellow-townsmen in gratitude for the benefits his invention conferred upon Grenoble.

A gentleman living near Selma, Ala., lost a vineyard this year, which sprouted early, and before the danger of frost had entirely passed. He was so sure that his vines would be killed, that he prevented this by turning cattle into the vineyard to eat off the sprouts, which they did. The gentleman says if the frost had caught the sprouts, they would have worked their way down the main vine and killed the roots.

As he saved his vines after a severe frost, and they are now putting out sprouts.—Napa Journal.

Life in the open air and adventures afloat and ashore make up a large part of the Cosmopolitan Magazine's contents for July. "Trout Fishing in the Laurentides," "The Diamond Fields of South Africa," "Ostrich Farming in California," and "Country Life in Honduras," are descriptive titles of some of these profusely illustrated open-air papers. In addition, Elizabeth Bisland describes London charities in a paper illustrated from picturesque photographs and character studies; C. C. Waddle tells the history of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union; James Grant Wilson writes of the daring achievements of Lieut. Cushing and General Custer, the boy heroes of the army and navy of the Union; and Lieut. W. S. Hughes describes the world's progress in the building of submarine war vessels. All these papers are handsomely illustrated from original sources.

The history of embroidery forms the subject of a beautifully illustrated article by Alida G. Radcliffe. There is a thrilling illustrated story of renunciation and self-sacrifice by Alva Milton Kerr, entitled "At the Dam of San Marco." Next month the Cosmopolitan promises to print the opening chapters of a short novel by Amelie Rives, which she entitles "According to St. John," and which is said to be the best work from her pen. During her two years' residence abroad, Mrs. Chanler has written nothing else for the public, and this product of her matured mind may be expected to register with something like exactness, this author's position in the world of letters.

The new fashion journal La Mode, La Mode de Paris and Album des Modes published by A. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th street, New York, are the most elegant of their kind ever brought to our notice. The styles are drawn by the best artists; and the books are produced by rival houses in Paris, each trying to excel the other in the character of its publications. Formerly they were printed only in French; but they are now published in English for the use of American readers. These journals furnish the styles one month in advance of any similar publications; and they have a practical department, in which lessons are given each

Mrs. J. R. Kynnersley died suddenly at Talcoa Vineyards, near Sonoma, Sunday week.

C. F. Juilliard was thrown from his carriage while driving to Sebastopol from Santa Rosa Wednesday, but not seriously injured. His horse became frightened at a band of sheep and overturned the buggy.

Frank Perasso, the twelve-year-old son of G. B. Perasso of Sonoma, while on his way from San Francisco to Sonoma Monday week fell off one of the passenger cars at Ignacio and his left arm was badly injured.

Mrs. Fannie Muther, at present confined in the county jail, tells a sensational story to reporters of having fallen heir to a large estate from an uncle in Nevada city who died leaving no will. She has written to the public administrator of Nevada county about the matter.

A man went up on the morning train Thursday to the Veterans' home. In getting off at Yountville he in some way fell, and the train starting up at the moment, he was caught under the car. His foot and leg were terribly lacerated and bruised, though no bones were broken.

Pierce Grace and Lee McReynolds of Santa Rosa were examined before Justice Brown Friday on the charge of grand larceny. The justice held them in bonds of $1,000 each to appear for trial in the superior court. Failing to produce the bonds they were committed to the county jail.

The biggest day's work at hay-baling we remember having heard spoken of, is that of the Holmer crew, Monday last, on George Tucker's farm. The men began work after six o'clock, stopped before sundown and moved the press once. The result of the day's labor was 161 bales. The principal portion of the hay was alfalfa.—Calistoga Independent.

Mrs. Nancy Owens died at her home in Santa Rosa, Thursday, June 9, 1891, of heart trouble, after a long and painful illness, at the age of seventy-two years. The deceased had been a resident of the county for a number of years and was respected and loved for the many noble qualities which she possessed. Deceased leaves seven children, four boys and three girls, one of whom is Mrs. W. H. Wilson of Sebastopol.

The rumor which has been floating around the valley the past week to the effect that Col. Hooper had disposed of his Sobre Vista property to the Jesuit Fathers for the founding of a college has no truth in it whatever. Mr. Harrison told the farmers of South Haven that "the goldite who put his bullion in a safe in 1873, and left it there, has seen it increasing at the rate of 3 per cent per annum." Has Mr. Harrison any objection to giving the names of one or more "goldites" of his acquaintance who made this disposition of their bullion? Will he also, being a business-man himself, explain how much these "goldites" made by the operation, and whether this alleged gain of 3 per cent a year is equal to 6 per cent or more, which they would have made had they used their bullion as Mr. Harrison did his, in buying Chicago real estate and waiting for the "unearned increment" rise? Cannot Mr. Harrison draw off a little balance sheet showing the difference between the profits of the man who locked up or buried $10,000 in gold bullion in 1873 and has just dug it up and the profits of the man who bought Ashland avenue lots and put houses on them for rent? The "goldite" as painted by Mr. Harrison is not an ogre and a blood-sucker, but an ignoramus who ought to have a conservator appointed to look after his estate. The intelligent business men of this city are eager to know the name of that "goldite."

The voting in Green valley and Sebastopol for the establishment of a high school at Sebastopol was negative on Saturday in each of the districts, Oak Grove, Laguna, Mount Vernon, Pleasant Hill and Llano. The majority against in Laguna district, in which Sebastopol is located, was 8; in Oak Grove, 3 for and 14 against.

Barbara Taxeria, known as Barbara Trachado, a housekeeper, in Coombsville, a town near Napa, went fishing one day recently and whether she slipped or threw herself into the river is not definitely known, but her body was found Wednesday floating near Socol. She was a native of Portugal, twenty-five years old and weighed 230 pounds.

A dispatch states that the mountain fire which has been raging near Sonoma for the past three days came near destroying the handsome residence and grounds of Mrs. Robert C. Johnson Thursday night. The wind changed, however, and took the flames in another direction. It is still burning fiercely through the Lovell valley and where it will stop no one can tell.

Another large eagle has been killed on the Tuttle ranch in Chileno valley. Only a short time ago the same marksman, Jerry Donovan, employed on the ranch, killed one measuring seven feet from tip to tip. This one is younger and not quite so large. Mrs. Tuttle says that another is hovering around the place and devastating the chicken yard. She wishes to present the one shot Sunday to the Native Sons to be stuffed and mounted as a guard over their parlor.

The state prison authorities are constructing a piece of road that will lead from the county road near the north line of the state domain to Point San Quentin. The object is to dispense with that portion of the public highway which formerly led through the prison property. This will be closed as soon as the new road is suitable for travel. The attorney general has given it as his opinion that there is no right-of-way over the old road and that it can be closed at pleasure.—Tocsin.

New Buildings—High School Defeated—A New Fruit Dryer—Poisoning Dogs—Boycott Threatened—Personal Mention.

SEBASTOPOL, August 18, 1891.

After so long a time I will try to furnish a few items from Sebastopol.

Our farmers are all very busy taking care of the fruit. It is hard to get any news from them.

Wilson & Co. have started their grape dryer on the depot grounds. A. Folger is contractor.

Mrs. Jessie Barnes' new building is nearly completed.

Mr. Gannon will move on the Yeagler property right in the center of town.

The high school election Saturday was defeated by eight majority. There were eighty-three votes polled.

School commenced on the 14th day of August.

G. W. Huntley's dryer is running full handed.

A great many farmers are drying their peaches rather than take the price offered.

Grape crops are very good in this vicinity.

I hear no complaint from the hop crop.

Our hotels are full of guests.

The Pawnee Medicine company have been here for a week giving free entertainments and selling lots of medicine.
They are a very gentlemanly crowd. The hall was filled each night.

Merchants are getting their share of business.

W. J. Beeson has sold out his blacksmith business to Mr. Matthews.

Some fiend or fiends are poisoning dogs
by the wholesale.

Charles Owens is working at blacksmithing in Wilson's shop.

Eardley, the insurance man of Santa Rosa, was in town Monday.

Mrs. LeFebvre and Miss Hill of Bloomfield and Miss Upson of Nevada was visiting Mrs. C. H. Palmer today.

Many campers are passing through town.

Some of our good citizens threatened to boycott those voting in favor of the high school. Very few of the business people of town voted at all.

Written for the Petaluma Courier.

Henry Farmer of Santa Rosa visited Judge Cavanagh's family last week.

Among Santa Rosans at the fair Wednesday were M. Doyle, W. C. Good and G. P. Hall.

SHE IS KEPT BUSY NOW.

Before she was married her cares were few,
Her life was merry and gay;
She had little to do and she hardly knew
How to pass the time away.

She was sometimes afflicted with ennui,
When out of idleness grew;
But she married a man to reform him, and she
At last has enough to do.

A. B. L. mmon of the Republican paid us a call Thursday.

Miss Mamie Haven of Stockton spent last week in Petaluma, where she used to reside.

M. B. Holton was up from San Francisco doing the fair last week.

Mrs. Ethel Taboas of San Rafael was at the fair Thursday.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox being asked for her opinion on the subject of marriage and divorce said: "Men want their sweethearts to be brilliant and showy and their wives to be domestic and practical. The girl who understands how to sew, cook, and nurse a sick child does not attract the single men, and the superior belle does not satisfy her husband after marriage. Hence the prevalence of divorce."

A sad death occurred in this city Wednesday night. Mrs. Joff Fine, who has been an invalid for a long time, passed away at her home here. Everything possible was done to make her last hours comfortable. Her funeral took place from the M. E. church, south, Friday and was largely attended.

Mrs. Anna Morrison Reed will deliver the address at the 12th district fair to be held at Ukiah.

Mrs. John McNear and son Erskine were up from Point Pedro last week.

Some months ago Mrs. Dr. J. G. Pierce of Sebastopol was called to Ottawa, Kan., on account of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. L. H. Barnett, and with her daughter, Miss Jennie, attended her until she was able to be up and around again, when they returned home. On Saturday week a telegram was received announcing that she had died suddenly that day. Mrs. Barnett was eighty-three years of age.

Mrs. F. McG. Martin, Sheriff Mulgrew and Assessor Longmore were among the county officials at the fair Thursday.

Miss Anna Saul was up from the city last week.

Miss Nellie Coulter attended the fair Saturday.

David Dooley of San Francisco was a visitor to Petaluma Sunday.

The guests who gathered under the elms of old Wallingford yesterday for the first commencement of Rosemary hall were not asked to listen to essays on "The Pleasures of Memory," "The Progress of Women" and like topics, so dear to the heart of the graduating school-girl. They entered the great dining-room of Hon. William G. Choate's summer residence to find themselves in Venice—looking on the Grand canal, with its floating gondolas, and at Shylock's house, with pretty Jessica leaning from the casement. Four scenes from the "Merchant of Venice" were given with much spirit. Then the guests were invited out of doors to see the contest for the silver mounted whip. Four horses, having on nothing but halters, stood under the trees, and the harness lay on the ground. The friends grouped themselves around and at the word "start!" four daintily gowned girls sprang for the harness. The excitement was intense as Black Beauty refused his bit or Joe held his head high. The fifth and sixth competitors were given trials as soon as harness was available. The prize was won in four minutes and a half by Miss Marion Hazard of Providence.—New Haven Palladium.

"What are you crying about, my little man?" "Jimmy O'Brien licked me first, an' then father licked me for letting Jimmy lick me, and then Jimmy licked me again for telling father, an' now I suppose I shall catch it again from father."—Life.

The play, Incog., by Mrs. Pacheco, widow of the late Romualdo Pacheco, has been produced in New York with great success. All the critics speak well of the San Francisco lady's ability and of the presentation of her play.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Crowley and daughter Mazie, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Scott of San Rafael came up Thursday.

time love, buried for many years, has sprang to life and is shining at her from his eyes and speaking to her in every tone of his mel- low voice.
And she? Some untold emotion seems tugging at her heart; her breast heaves; she turns toward the stairway.
"Come!"

Five minutes later a horde of men gallop up to the house, and force wide open the massive oaken door, her husband at the head. She never flinches. Transfixing the General with a scornful look she addressed him with cutting emphasis:

"Since when has John Vancouver adopted this manner of bringing guests and entering his house as though it were a barrack?"

"Cease Madam: you toy with edged tools! Where is the traitor?" he entered at that door!"

"Indeed!" the wide eyes blazing, "and since when has General Vancouver sus- pected his wife of entertaining rebel offi- cers during his absence?" She sees her fatal mistake as soon as she utters it and goes on hastily, blindly: "Perdance, too, the kitchen is full of American soldiery be- ing feasted at thy expense; you had best go down to see!"

"Nay, Madam! thy tongue betrays thee! It is above and not below stairs that we shall find the "Rebel officer!" He turns upon the lower step, and calls loudly, his old voice quaking with anger. "Two! seize that woman! She is a traitor to her King and an abettor of his enemies!"

The search proves fruitless. They come clattering down the stairs, the Major at their head. He goes up to Prudence, his yellow features distorted with rage.

"Tell me, woman! Where have you hid this man? Tell me, I say!"

She looks at him proudly from between the imprisoning arms that hold her.

"You forget sir, in what manner to address a lady, and that lady thy wife!"

"Free girl, you no longer as such! Take her away, men to the edge of the cliff! I'll wring the truth from her or cast her to the waves!"

They dragged her out into the night and storm, with yellow and red and white- ly-clinging robes, and she never wept or spoke, only they thought she whispered something as they crossed the threshold: they were not certain. They forced her to the verge of the precipice and held her, with the glow from the fire-house oppo- site shining down upon her drenched and shivering form, her haggard face and wild, despair- ing eyes. And the Major questioned her, taunted her, but could draw nothing from her until at last grown mad with anger at her stubborn silence he seizes her arm and wrenches it: "Answer me!"

She leaned back sick and faint and moan- ed with pain, then a terrible revulsion came at the indignity offered to the daughter of

A peddler carrying sponges was caught in a thunder shower in Azcon, Conna the other day, and of course the sponges absorbed water and grew to tremendous proportions, giving the peddler the ap- pearance of a prodigious mushroom on feet. He frightened horses and the dogs barked at his heels. Finally he took a side street and escaped.

Irwin C. Stump has contracted with Mr. Diggins for the construction of a drive leading from the Olema road at a point just beyond the railroad crossing near Fairfax to a table-land tract owned by Mr. Stump, formerly a part of the Austin and Dutton ranch. The road will be nearly two and a half miles long, of very easy grade and will be a highly pictur- esque and popular drive. It will also bring into the market one of the most at- tractive pieces of land in the neigh- borhood of San Rafael and one which will create a furor when it is made accessible to the public by this road.—Toesin.

Mrs. T. F. Jerome, a lady seventy years old, was the most composed and self- possessed one in the crowd when her house burned down at Sansalito lately. Upon her discovery of the flames which had already made considerable headway, she proceeded calmly to carry valuable pictures and other possessions out of her burning home, making several trips be- fore any one came in response to her call for help. She then gave directions to the excited ones so that all possible was done, but the help came too late to save her home although many of her house- hold goods were saved.

Last year $50,000 was paid to China- men for picking hops in the district from Russian River to Santa Rosa and $25,000 was paid to them for cultivating the same, making a total of $75,000 which was taken from this district by Chinamen. Hop growers prefer white help, and will employ them in preference to Chinamen when they are competent. Joseph Pur- rington has employed a large number of white persons, and would have engaged more had they applied; and Otis Allen has secured enough white help to pick his entire crop.—Sebastopol Times.

BODEGA, October 4, 1891.

J. Williams, who some time ago sustained a severe injury to his knee, causing him to be bed-ridden for some time, is now able to be around, walking with the aid of a cane.

J. Palla spent a few days in San Francisco last week.

L. S. Goodman returned from San Francisco Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Clark of Santa Rosa spent Thursday in town.

Messrs. Stump and Gleason made a two days' visit to the metropolis last week.

Mrs. A. Crayne of Freestone was visiting friends in this vicinity Thursday.

S. Boyd and sister spent Thursday in Santa Rosa.

Our stable and butcher shop have a new coat of paint, which improves the looks of things in the vicinity very much.

G. Tibbitts and family started this morning for a visit to relatives residing in Sacramento.

H. Owens, while coming from Bodega bay last Tuesday, met with quite a severe accident which will incapacitate him for some time. The wagon overturning, the iron-work of the seat came against his ankle breaking one of the bones, and crushing the foot badly. He was taken to Santa Rosa for medical treatment, and was then brought to his brother's, Roadmaster Owens, of this place.

James Watson Sr., a pioneer resident of this county, died at his home in Green Valley, Thursday, at the age of eighty years. Deceased was a native of county Donegal, Ireland, and came to America in 1833, and lived for two years in New York. He then moved to Illinois where he married Hannah Jackson, a native of England. He came to this state in 1849, and worked in the mines for about two months and then moved to this county, taking up his residence on the Jasper O'Farrell place near Freestone. In the spring of 1851 he went back to Illinois, but finding no place that suited him so well as California in 1853 he came back with his family and located at Bodega. He remained on his farm near Bodega Corners until 1877, when he sold out to Hollis Hitchcock, who now makes the old Watson place his home. After selling, Mr. Watson bought the James Hudspeth place in Green Valley, where he continued to reside up to the time of his death. His wife, who survives him, is seventy-six years of age. Eleven children were born to them, eight of whom are now living; four sons and four daughters, all but one of whom are living in this state. The second son is in the east. The funeral was held at his late residence on Saturday, and the remains were interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery near Sebastopol, and followed by a large

A Busy Town - Low Prices for Grapes - The Winery Begins the Season - A Store Moves - Improvements - Accident to a Child - Hunters Who do Damage - Personal Mention.

SEBASTOPOL, October 5, 1891.

We still live, if grapes are only $6 per ton, what is the large price our enterprising winery and drier men are paying. Big encouragement for vineyardists.

Fruit is down to bedrock prices; hops and potatoes cheap. No wonder our township is full of growers.

Everybody is busy, notwithstanding the drier of Wilson & Co. needs a good deal of alteration before it will give satisfaction. They give employment to a great many hands and pay good wages.

The winery started up today. They have a good run and will get all the grapes they want at the low prices. The vineyardists have got the grapes and have to get rid of them.

G. W. Huntly will run his drier another month yet. He is running on apples.

Our town is quite lively. Merchants are doing a good business.

Mr. Gammon, one of Sebastopol's prosperous young merchants, has moved into his handsome new store.

The postoffice is located across the street from the old stand.

Our popular hotels are full all the time. John Brown is building a storehouse on his property in town.

Miss McMenamin is remodeling her property on Main street.

Aaron Barnes has rented one of his brick stores.

Fred Janessen, one of T. G. Wilton's popular clerks, is dangerously ill at his home in Sebastopol.

Mr. Ames' little son came very near losing his eyesight the other day while playing with powder. His face was badly burned.

J. H. P. Morris, the retired butcher, is limping with rheumatism.

Quail hunters make it lively for the birds - ditto the cows. Wild pigeons are plentiful in the foothills in this vicinity.

Quite a fire started near Mr. Pitts' place in a large pasture and destroyed quite a lot of fence and pasture. It burnt over several hundred acres and came very near burning Mr. Cunningham's house and barn. They were saved by hard work. Several from town went to the relief and did good work as well as the people in that neighborhood. The fire started by hunters shooting paper for wadding.

Popular Sam Allen of Santa Rosa and the Republican's good natured reporter spent a few hours in Sebastopol today.

The town is full of Chinamen hop-pickers getting rid of their earnings by gambling. I counted ten tables running; said to be tan.

Mr. Hicks, north of town, will build a large cannery and drier on his place this fall. He is hauling material and means business.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Lake county, Or., has formed a society of veterans.

Allie Wilson shot and killed Jim Carey in a Vallejo saloon Monday week, the result of a quarrel.

Since January last over 1,035 vessels have crossed the Humboldt bar and the shipments of lumber have been over 100,000,000 feet.

Mrs. Dr. Plunkett, an old resident of this county, died of pneumonia at her home in Sebastopol, Wednesday, at the age of 67 years.

Mendocino county is to have a hall of records. It will be built of brick, iron and concrete. Bateman Brothers were awarded the contract for $11,800.

Garrett Barnett has been found guilty of robbing a veteran of $30 near the Yountville home. Ed Standard, tried for complicity, was acquitted.

A fire at Rutherford recently destroyed the handsome residence of William Krekeler, causing a loss of $7,000. An insurance of $4,500 was on the property.

A man, supposed to be named Jack Carey or Jim Ogden, in jail at St. Helena, committed suicide Thursday by hanging himself with his blankets, slowly strangling to death.

Charles Rogers died on Sunday, September 24th, at the Polpula Rancho from injuries received the day before by falling from a wagon on Jas. McMackin's place near the Embarcadero.

Joseph Maillard has brought suit for divorce against his wife, who left him and went to a logging camp in Humboldt county, where she is living with a man named Ingram, formerly an employe on her husband's Marin county place.

Tuesday evening of last week, R. H. Curtis, of Mark West, committed suicide by blowing the top of his head off with a shot gun. The deceased was 68 years of age and a native of New York. Despondency resulting from poor health is thought to have been the cause of his rash deed.

Al Estes of Sonoma, while intoxicated one night recently, struck Otto Garje, the barkeeper of the Union hotel, in the face and caused such a copious flow of blood that it was doubtful at one time of his victim's recovery. He was arrested and taken to the county jail to await developments.

About six weeks ago Andrew Akerson and August Victor, belonging to the Seamen's union, went to Humboldt county to engage in fishing. A week ago Saturday, they started for Trinidad; since then they have not been heard from. The boat was found capsized. They were Scandinavians, aged about thirty-five years.

Charles Gifford of Glen Ellen was attacked by a vicious stallion recently, and kicked on his right loin. The injured man was dragged out by the feet just in time to save him from being bitten by the animal as he lay unconscious on the floor of the stable. He is injured internally. The animal has nearly killed one or two keepers in the past few years.

The Farmers' mill and a winery, a part of the estate of L. A. Norton, in Healdsburg, were destroyed by fire Thursday night. The mill was entirely burned and severe damage was done to the winery. The loss, including grain stored in the mill, is estimated to amount to $5,000; no insurance. The fire is believed to be the work of an incendiary.

The Healdsburg Tribune says, for the benefit of the young men who are financially unable to attend the Healdsburg College, donations for their tuition to the amount of $1,500 was subscribed at one of the meetings at the Adventists encampment. The donations summed up wonderfully fast, which speaks well for these people, who are always devoted to their brethren.

Labor Commissioner Waltz, of San Francisco, has received a communication from the federated trades asking that he investigate the condition of the lumbermen and woodmen of Mendocino county. The abuses specified are the truck system, by which the workingmen are compelled to patronize company stores, paying excessive prices for goods, and the payment of wages in checks, due in three and even six months. Long hours of labor for poor pay are also mentioned. Commissioner Waltz replied that he would take up the woodworkers' case immediately after completing his inquiry into the conditions in the leather trade. Since he wrote he has learned that there is an urgent need for an investigation, and he may begin it sooner. — Democrat.

A letter recently received by Miss Agnes Smith of Santa Rosa contained the particulars of a thrilling ordeal through which Mrs. Boschke, (nee Smith) her cousin, has recently passed at the home of her husband's mother on Boschke island, near San Pedro. A few nights ago the house was shaken to its foundations by an explosion in the room occupied by Mr. Boschke's aged grandmother. The explosion was caused by a lamp and a most before the inmates of the house had time to realize what had occurred the place was black with smoke and the fiery tongues were darting about like angry hissing serpents. An effort was made to save the old lady, but they were compelled to leave her to a horrible fate. Mrs. Boschke had gone to bed, and she barely escaped with her life. Everything in the house was consumed.

the court Thursday filed its in the Rutledge-Crawford election, reversing the decision of the court and placing Judge Rutledge on the bench. In regard to the two ballots, an impression or offset on the court held that the said impression was the result of an accident, and marked ballot within the meaning of law, and should have been counted. As to the ballots on which the words were written in indelible pencil, the court held that the writing was that of a pencil within the meaning of the law, and that they should have been counted. The same ruling was made regarding the ballots written in red ink. The judgment of the lower court was reversed and the case remanded back for findings consistent with the opinion. The decision is in conformity with the law and gives us a judge whom nearly every one in this district is more than glad to have seated by the court.

Don't Take a Joke.

The early riser was out watering his garden when the funny man came along and stepped on the hose.

The early riser turned around to see what had happened and the water so suddenly stopped.

"What a funny man," laughed at him.

"Off that hose!" exclaimed the early riser.

"Don't mind me," said the funny man. "Go on and water your grass."

The early riser noticed that the nozzle was pointed in his direction.

"Point that the other way!" he said.

The early riser glanced down at the nozzle and his face lit up with pleasure.

"Ising to shut off a man's water," he asked.

"My dear sir," expostulated the funny man, "I didn't—"

"Intensely funny," said the early riser, "you'd better get off that hose."

"I can't," said the funny man, "you see the nozzle's pointed right at me and if I do—"

"Well, I'm in no hurry," interrupted the early riser. "If you enjoy it, I know that I have any reason to—"

The early riser held the nozzle between his fingers while he took out a cigar and the funny man watched him puff males bay at Sacramento landing Wednesday. Mrs. Pendergast has been for many years subject to spells of insanity, and at times would get beyond control. That afternoon she and her nurse took a drive to the landing. On the way she was taken with one of these spells, grabbed the lines from her attendant, applied the whip to the horses and drove down the steep declivity into the bay. Mrs. Pendergast was drowned, but the nurse was rescued. She is in a critical condition, however, having been injured in the descent.

Mr. Meeker, son of A. P. Meeker of Occidental, narrowly escaped a fatal accident last Saturday while in Santa Rosa, says an exchange. He started to cross the railroad track as the train for Sebastopol was steaming out, and his buggy barely escaped contact with the engine, at which his horse became frightened, and, shying, ran against the railroad signpost, throwing him out some distance against a fence. He was picked up unconscious. The horse kept on up Third street and ran against another post, smashing the buggy to pieces.

Miss Maggie McMahon, a Santa Rosa young lady of great presence of mind, averted what might have been a serious accident recently. She was approaching the Donahue railway at Tenth street, when she saw a tie placed across the track. The evening train was approaching, and, realizing that there was no time to summon help, the brave girl exerted all her strength and dragged it away just in time. This is the second time that some lawless person has laid a trap for the train at Santa Rosa, but he may go a little too far some fine day and get within the clutches of the law.

Catarrh can't be cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you have to take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh cure is no quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

Jacob O. Pfister died at his home in Sebastopol, Friday, at the age of thirty-five years, after a short sickness. Mr. Pfister was a native of Switzerland, coming to America in 1873. For many years he was a resident of Sonoma county. He was a nephew of Conrad Pfister, and was a man who was held in high esteem.

George Meacham, who lives with his family two miles west of Fulton, was awakened Wednesday at 2 A. M. by a noise which he supposed to be caused by acorns falling on the roof. He dropped to sleep again, but it could only have been for a short time, for when he opened his eyes the house was in flames. His wife and baby and himself barely had time to get out with their night clothes. Everything was destroyed; loss $750 and insurance $350. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a defective flue.—Democrat.

couple departed on the afternoon train for San Francisco, their future home.

Mrs. P. G. Sartori and children of Tomales left this week for a visit with relatives at Stockton.

Stanley Stewart came up from college Thursday and spent Thanksgiving with his parents out at the Washoe house.

Mr. Alfred Holman, managing editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, with Mrs. Holman and Mr. and Mrs. Cushing of San Francisco and San Rafael, drove up from the latter place last Sunday on a visit to W. A. Selkirk of the Courier, who was formerly editorially associated with Mr. Holman. The entire party were enthusiastic in admiration of Petaluma and vicinity.

Hon. J. H. Miller, formerly of Latrobe, El Dorado county, but now a resident of Oakland, was in Petaluma Saturday, where he and Mrs. Miller were visiting their old friends and neighbors, Dr. Trusholtz and family. Mr. Miller was formerly one of the most extensive wool-growers in this state, in which he was doing a lucrative business until Congress interfered and commenced managing it for him. In several published communications he has blamed the solons at Washington for "protecting" him out of his boots.

DEATH OF CALVIN WHITNEY.

He Fell Through a Skylight and was Instantly Killed.

Sunday evening the shocking intelligence was received in this city that Calvin E. Whitney was dead. A thrill of horror was felt by all who heard the sad news. And when the particulars of his violent death reached the home of his boyhood, tears welled up in many sad eyes. Strong men turned pale and gathered in little groups and in hushed tones told one another how well they knew and loved him as a fair-haired boy, how that love turned to respect and admiration as he grew to manhood and by perseverance, honesty, integrity and strict attention to business fought his way step by step, to the very front rank among the great merchants of the great city of San Francisco.

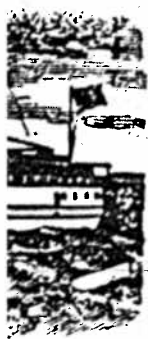

One short week ago Mr. Whitney moved his family into his new and handsome home at 2010 Washington street, San Francisco. Today at 1 o'clock he was borne away to his grave in the Masonic cemetery.

The facts of his death are as follows: Sunday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, thinking from the indication of the weather

Two horses hitched to a lumber wagon made things lively for awhile on Main street about 7 o'clock last evening. They ran from the lower plaza to Washington street before being stopped. No damage.

After being in the courts for two years the Sissingood will has been sustained. On Wednesday the court granted a dis-

GOLDEN EAGLE FLOUR MILLS. One of the Many Milling Industries of Petaluma and what it Does Annually.

The milling industries of Petaluma have increased rapidly during the past few years. To-day there is not a city on the coast of our city's size that can compare with us, and no wonder, for surrounded as Petaluma is by a prolific fruit, grain and lumber growing country, possessed of unsurpassed railroad and water facilities, and with a cheap freight to San Francisco she presents unrivalled attractions for the success of all manufacturing industries.

About the first sight that greets the eye of the visitor after coming to Petaluma is the handsome and imposing four story brick structure occupied by the Golden Eagle Milling company. The mills were first constructed near the railroad depot, but in December, 1884, were burned to the ground. During the short time the mills had been in operation the flour manufactured had gained such a reputation that a company was immediately organized and a new site selected on Washington street on the banks of Petaluma creek, thereby furnishing direct communication with deep water vessels and so situated that the side tracks of the S. F. & N. P. R. R. came directly to the doors of the mill. A brick warehouse adjoining is 175 feet square and here is stored the grain, flour, meals, etc. The milling machinery is the latest improved patterns. On the ground floor are the wheat dumps, barley packers and roughing shakers; on the second floor are seven double sets 9x18 Stevens' rolls, a Victor double-brush scourer, a grain separator of the latest improved pattern, a set of barley rolls, one flour and one bran packer and a run of stone for barley. On the third floor are one two-reel re-bolting chest, four centrifugals, four purifiers with dust collectors, a Victor smutter and the garners. On the fourth floor are two four-reel bolting chests, a six-reel scalping chest, a corn-meal bolt, a rolling screen, a Hughes' bran duster, a corn cleaner and the necessary shafting.

The annual output of flour in round numbers is 45,000 barrels. To manufacture this amount of the staff of life requires 110,000 sacks of wheat. Forty-two thousand sacks of barley, corn and oats are annually consumed and the yearly pay roll is $10,000. Every dollar of which goes to the workmen of Petaluma.

Harry Weston's beautiful new cottage on Sixth street, will be completed in about a month. When finished it will be one of the handsomest residences in the city, besides being a marvel of admirable arrangement. In this respect it is termed a model by experts who have inspected the interior.

Geo. H. W. Bruggy, convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged, will appear before the court on April 11th, when the court will fix a day for the execution of the judgment. Bruggy was convicted some two years ago and appealed to the supreme court, which affirmed the judgment of the lower court. Unless executive clemency intercedes, Bruggy will hang within ninety days.

Johnny Thompson is working hard to arrange a grand tug-of-war match to be held at Starke's Park in the near future. He expects to have four teams in the contest—the German, Danish and Portuguese teams and one composed of the employees of the Golden Eagle Milling company. The gate receipts are to be divided equally between the competing teams and a liberal cash prize, beside, is to be given to the winners.

William Howe and George Watson, the two young men convicted on Wednesday of stealing lead pipe and rope, were sentenced by Recorder Whallon on Thursday—the former to seven months and the latter to six months in the county jail. The charges against the two offenders were identical, but Watson was given the lighter sentence in consideration of his having acknowledged his guilt when confronted by the court.

George P. Baxter, cashier of the new Sebastopol bank, informed a Courier reporter on Thursday that the bank building now in course of construction would be ready for occupancy about the 1st of May, when the institution will begin business. The building is of brick, with a front of pressed brick and basalt copings and keystones, and will be fitted with plate-glass windows. The interior furnishings will all be of high grade and will include a very fine time-lock safe in a vault of the best possible description.

A Chemical Analysis.

Responsive to the demands of a number of leading Petalumans who can only be satisfied by having the very best of everything, regardless of cost, a committee of eminent analytical chemists examined and tested a great number of samples of milk from various private establishments and dairies in and about Petaluma on Thursday, March 24th. They expressed astonishment at the uniform excellence of all the samples exhibited. They think that Petaluma can justly claim pre-eminence in this respect. But by a vote of six to one they pronounced the product of Reidi's Jersey cows superior to all others. The one dissentient did so because he could not realize that it was simply pure milk that had been furnished by this exhibitor. He suspected Mr. Reidi of having palmed off pure cream on the committee, which of course was an error.

HOW TO KEEP TROUSERS

A Sure and Simple Preventive Against Sagging at the Knees.

Never, in any circumstances, hang them up. Always fold them. Creases are largely worn and are perfectly admissible, but if there is an objection to them the trousers can easily be folded so that the creases will not be pronounced. They should be folded over but once—at the knees—and to do it properly take the two first suspender buttons in front and place them together. Do this with your left hand; with your right hand hold the trousers up in the back. They will then hang as they do when they are worn. Then, transferring your hold to the middle, with the left hand, which is now free, catch them at the bottom and bring the two ends together. With a little practice you will be surprised how easy this is. The best place to keep them is on a small walnut table, which can be bought for a dollar or so, and which also has a shelf below.

How to Clean Pearls.

Put them to soak in water in which bran has been boiled, with a little cream of tartar and some alum. As soon as the water is cooled enough rub the pearls gently with the hands until it is cold. Then go through the process with a fresh preparation, keeping on until all discolorations are removed. Finally rinse in lukewarm water, lay on white paper and put in a dark place to dry.

How to Prevent Decay in Wood.

Decay in wood can be prevented by covering it with a varnish composed of twenty parts rosin, forty-six parts finely powdered chalk, a little linseed oil and sulphuric acid, and some hard sand. These are to be mixed and boiled a short time, then applied while hot.

How to Make Paste for Scrapbooks.

Mix a little laundry starch with cold water until it will stir smoothly. Then pour on boiling water until it becomes a clear, jellylike substance. It can be used at once when cool.

How to Mend Broken China.

Make a light paste of the white of an egg and flour. Clean the broken edges from dust, spread them with the paste and hold the parts together while wet, wiping off all that oozes out. It must be held or fastened in position until dry. A perfectly colorless cement is made by dissolving a half ounce of gum arabic in a wine glass of boiling water and adding plaster of paris to form a thick paste. Use at once, applying with a thick brush.

The Sebastopol Times in its issue of yesterday says: "A movement is on foot to remove from our midst the dirty, almond-eyed heathen who are now occupying the most desirable portion of Sebastopol. We do not want them because they retard the growth of our town and jeopardize the health of our people by living in disease-breeding hovels. In unity there is strength, and we are glad to note that the feeling against them is universal. A mass meeting will be held this evening in Janssen's Hall to discuss the best plans for their removal. Let every person who is interested in the future of this town be in attendance.
Don't shift the responsibility upon the shoulders of your neighbor, but come to

SPRIGHTLY SEBASTOPOL.

Matters and Affairs at the Lively Town in the Interior.

A COURIER reporter visited Sebastopol yesterday and was more than surprised to see on every hand evidences of an activity to which the town was a stranger only a few short months ago.

Sebastopol has now a population of fully 600, and from all present indications it will not be long before the thousand mark shall have been passed.

A number of business blocks are in construction, including two large and imposing brick buildings which will be a splendid architectural acquisition to the lively burg.

The new Sebastopol bank building is a gem in its way. The scribe inspected it, under the strict surveillance of the cashier, the popular George P. Baxter.
The interior fittings are such as would do credit to the largest bank in the county—in fact, they are better and finer and more "modern" than those of most of our banks. An excellent vault contains one of the finest pieces of mechanism in the way of a time-lock safe on the coast. The bank has been a great success since its starting, only a few months ago, and is already acknowledged as the chief of Sebastopol's solid business concerns.

A fraternal call was made upon E. S.
Fyfe, editor and proprietor of the Sebastopol Times. He has a very well-appointed office next door to the bank building. He and his paper, with the assistance of his estimable wife, who is a practical printer, have done invaluable service in the way of booming the town.

The word "boom," however, does not apply to Sebastopol's present or prospective condition in the harum-scarum, wildcat sense in which the term is often understood. There is no crazy fever in the atmosphere; no rushing in with a whoop and a yell to buy property and screech it up to a big profit and sell and get out, but a perfectly legitimate interest and activity based upon intrinsic merit.

Sebastopol has every reason to hope for a gratifying growth during the coming year, and there is little doubt that before the close of 1893 she will be the third city in the county in point of size and commercial importance.

ODDS AND ENDS.

FORCED TO ENLARGE.

The Interesting Problem which Faces the Sonoma Preserve Company.

A special meeting of the Sonoma Preserve company was held at the office of the secretary, Geo. C. Coddington, Friday forenoon.

The attendance of stockholders was large, and they were manifestly interested in the proceedings.

The object of the meeting was, primarily, to hear the report of the manager of the concern, regarding the business done during 1892, and, secondarily, to decide upon plans for the future operation of the affairs of the company.

The report of Manager Sanborn was gratifying in the highest degree. A most wonderful success was clearly manifest in the workings of the company during the time in question. The business of the company for the year was shown to be in excess of the most sanguine hopes of any of the stockholders.

After a thorough canvassing of the matter, it was decided that the facilities of manufacture should be very materially engaged. The company is now working about thirty hands, whereas 100 could be worked to advantage.

By unanimous vote, the sale of the company's unissued stock (amounting to $14,000) was ordered, the said stock to be sold upon the same terms as those given the present shareholders on all stock sold within sixty days.

This sale of stock will enable the company to so enlarge its facilities as to meet the fast-increasing business which has lately almost swamped the concern in its effort to "keep up with orders," and unless all signs fail, it will also enable investors to make a very pretty penny on their investment.

The goods of the Sonoma Preserve company have won the highest kind of a reputation wherever they have been introduced. They are acknowledged by connoisseurs as equal to the best goods of their kind made anywhere on earth, and the demand for them has long been in excess of the company's facilities for filling its orders.

It is to be hoped that the company will soon be able to double its present facilities—and even there is a prospect that before the present year is ended it will be found that further enlargement will be necessary.

Start the new month right. Take

The Petaluma Social Club held a special meeting last evening, when a constitution and by-laws was adopted, substantially as framed by a committee consisting of Dr. Thos. MacLay, Will Fairbanks, and Walter Towne. The original document was either lost or destroyed but the club now has good foundation to go by. The instrument is a fine piece of manuscript, and shows a great deal of care in its preparation. At the meeting last evening, several new names, such as "Pioneer," "Bohemian," and "Union" were proposed, but the name was finally brought back to "Petaluma."

Mayor Worth the other day received a cane, manufactured by a San Francisco friend, which is a veritable curiosity, and is also handsome and quite valuable as a weapon of defense. It has an extremely hard and polished surface, and an inspection suggests that it was made from thin cuttings of bone which had been cemented together. But it was made of paper cuttings or punchings of showbills of many colors. A number of these were placed in a pile and then by one operation they were punched to the proper size and a hole was punched through the middle. A half-inch steel rod, which forms the core of the cane, was then

Captain J. O. Sladen, special agent of the German-American Fire Insurance company, was in Petaluma Friday, and appointed Mr. F. A. Wickersham, resident agent. The German-American is one of New York's old companies, has a paid-up capital of $1,000,000 and a surplus of over two million dollars. Captain Sladen was fortunate in securing so good an agent, and we bespeak for the company a good line of risks.

The Sebastopol Times gets a good deal of wisdom into small space when it says: "Too much law making leads to law breaking." Many a column editorial contains not a tithe of the sense contained in this brief paragraph. It is a heap of "multum" in mighty little "parvo." It should be printed in letters of gold in the walls of congress and of every state legislature.

The Times quotes a report that the roads leading into Sebastopol are almost impassable. And the same valued exchange says that an electric railroad from Santa Rosa into Rincon valley is "being agitated." And also that half a dozen carpenters have commenced a two-story addition to the Anahy hotel, 30x34, to be used for sleeping apartments. And also that Mr. Arthur Winkler of Green valley and Miss Cora Boswell, while out driving, met with an accident near town on the Healdsburg road, resulting in an almost total destruction of the buggy and a dislocation of Miss Boswell's arm. Also that Oscar Litchfield has passed the examinations at the California college of dentistry, and has been recommended by the regents for the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery.

Says the Sebastopol Times of March 8th: More tenement houses are needed in Sebastopol. Just the other day a lady from Santa Rosa was here in quest of a house to rent but her search was in vain, for every house in town is occupied. How to Make Milk Paint for Barns.

How to Take a Salt Water Bath at Home.

A cup of rock salt added to the water for a cold or cool bath will lessen the shock to persons who cannot take a plain cold bath, and will also refresh and invigorate one much like a sea bath. A warm salt bath from 85 to 90 degs. will induce sleep in a restless or feverish child. Add a cup of salt to six gallons of water, not rinsing the skin afterward, but rubbing it down with the hands.

TOWN TOPICS

News of the Day in Brief

For a good cigar go to Jos. Viera. He has special bargains in crockery and glass for next 60 days at Atwater's.

Several Santa Rosa society people will attend the club party in this city tonight.

G. W. Libby has been appointed postmaster at Sebastopol, vice J. P. Cannon who resigned.

Derby's block presents a much improved appearance since the plate glass front was placed in position.

Visitors to the silk factory can only be received on Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 12 M. This rule will be strictly enforced.

If you want the best milk that you ever tasted in your life, get your regular supply from Y. Reidi, of the Excelsior dairy.

Judge Scudder has secured desk room in the office of Wells, Fargo & Co., where he will transact his real estate and insurance business.

The Salvation Army will open fire on Petaluma in the M. E. Church Thursday evening, May 4th, at 8 o'clock. Everybody is welcome.

Swimming is already the rage among some of the young men of Petaluma, and parties may be seen daily going up to the favorite swimming place at "Green's."

Early Thursday morning Officer Brush arrested an insane man who was wandering aimlessly around the water front. He will be examined today and no doubt sent to Napa.

All persons having coupons on Elite gallery can have money paid on same refunded on all work done by Roberts the photographer, Main street, opposite American hotel. 4-12-11

Do you use milk? Most people do, and most people, furthermore, desire good milk. Those who are so fortunate as to get their milk from Reidi's Excelsior dairy are unanimous in the opinion that they are getting as good milk as our good friends, the cows, ever produced.

CLEVELAND COMING

The President to Visit California in the Summer

Daniel Lamont, who is, perhaps, closer to Cleveland than any man in Washington is authority for the statement that the president has fully determined to make this coast a visit before the fall.

In conversation with an intimate friend Mr. Lamont said, "For several years the president has been very anxious to see the beauties of the Pacific slope, and, at this particular time he can not only gratify this desire but also make such a study of the political situation in California, as will be of great assistance to him later on, when making appointments for this coast."

He will, too, have an opportunity of investigating more closely the Chinese question which, judging from the way the Chinese Six Companies are preparing to defy the Geary restriction act, is liable, in a very short time, to be before the country in a most prominent manner.

Mrs. Cleveland is, as yet, undecided about accompanying him. She is, however, very anxious to do so as there are several wonders, as she calls them, in California that have long interested her and such a trip would afford the pleasure, so long desired, of looking into them.

Ever since their marriage the president has insisted on sending to this coast for the flour used in their cooking department and Mrs. Cleveland has always said that a locality where such a superior article as Golden Eagle Flour could be manufactured must be one of the wonders of California.

The Dedictory Ode.

Departing from the precedent established when the preliminary arrangement for the recent dedicatory ceremonies were made, it has been decided to pass by the younger aspirants for the laurel wreath and request the veteran Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes to furnish an appropriate ode for the May Day celebration of the opening of the exposition. It seems to be the universal opinion of the directors and of the commissioners that the last member of America's first school of great writers should be paid this compliment.

After Miss Harriet Monroe had been commissioned to prepare the dedicatory ode, and until the young lady had herself disarmed criticism, many harsh things were said of the committee's action. In this case it will be impossible for the most exacting to find fault with the choice. This has been the idea of those who have made the decision. No direct promise has been received from Dr. Holmes, still it is understood that if the request is made he will consent to save the exposition. It is also said that he will make the ode his final master-

I was 18 years of age, I must as I was very fond of a nice young man who had come to see me for over a year and we both looked forward to a wedding in the near future. He was German; I an American. I understood German very well, though I had never told him so. I had never seen his mother, and I wanted to, but he would say "Some time I shall take you and my mother her new daughter." He did a long time doing it, and one day he said, "Come, Gus, we will surprise your mother." He said, rather crossly, "Oh, today." I said: "Yes, today. I want to see her." He had sent me a lovely bouquet this morning, and I took out some pinks
I wore them. When we got to the street, I said, "In this street?" "Yes," he answered. "Mother is queer."
He stopped at an alley; then in we went to a very poor but respectable rear entrance. He opened the door, and a very poor little woman stood in the door. Gus introduced us, but I shall never forget the look he gave her. She looked in dread of him. Then she said:
Gus, where have you been since I have cried myself sick with wanting you." He ground his teeth, and in German he said, "Shut your mouth." She sighed as she walked into her room. A mirror hung between the front windows, and, where had I seen all that was going on in the room. His mother beckoned him in, and he did so. In German

FORESTVILLE NOTES.

FORESTVILLE, Cal., May 1, 1893.
EDITOR COURIER—The Salvation Army protracted meeting referred to by "Aidol" came to an abrupt close on Friday of the first week and the army left with banners trailing, without saying good-bye. The division at work here consisted of Captain Jasper and wife, who on the way fell in with Keno and made enquiries as to the people they would meet. Fatal inquisitiveness. Keno never permits conscientious scruples to stand in the way of a joke and he proceeded to fill them up. "There is," said he, "Mr. —, a church member, a great fraud, who will cheat you out of your eye teeth; and there is Mrs. —, an inveterate tattler, and Mr. —, as great a hypocrite as ever lived," etc.
Mr. Jasper was greatly shocked and his real rose to a white heat. With fixed determination to rebuke and reform, he sailed in loaded to the muzzle with mud. But the recoil was more than was provided for; it nearly floored the Captain but it served to open his eyes to the fact that a job had been put up on him, hence the hasty retreat. We hear they have camped on the trail of the hardened sinners of Sebastopol and if not run in as vags or for disturbing the peace, they may succeed in bringing some of them down. Well, they are a hard lot and a good shaking up may do them good. It is understood that Rev. Tuttle, of the M.
E. church, will hold the sack while the Captain makes the drive.
A large delegation of patrons and pupils of our school went to Mark West

Admiral Irwin's Dispatch From Honolulu.

Trial of Mayor Harrison's Assassin in Chicago—Mitchell Confident.

FROM HONOLULU.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The Navy department to-day received the following dispatch from Admiral Irwin, at Honolulu, dated December 4th, and brought by the Oceanic to San Francisco: "The Provisional government has 1,000 men under arms. The palace is prepared for defense."

HARRISON'S ASSASSIN.

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—The jury in the case of Pendergast, on trial for the assassination of Mayor Harrison, having been secured, the trial began this morning with the opening address to the jury in behalf of the state by Assistant State's Attorney Todd.

Todd claimed that the actions of the prisoner, at the time of shooting and subsequently, showed that he was sane. As this line of argument was developed, Pendergast turned pale and shrank back with ill-concealed agitation.

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Billy Woods says: "I left Charley in Philadelphia Saturday, and I tell you you wouldn't know him. He is a changed man entirely. I never saw a man in such splendid fix, considering he has done very little of what you might call active training. He has taken off nearly twenty pounds since he landed in this country. He weighed, when I left him, 183 pounds, and he expects to enter the ring at 175. He is

Dairy would be hard to improve at any time of the year, but if anything can make it better it is the new crop of grass.

Those who take milk from this dairy (which ought to be called a creamery, in justice to the quality of the milk) do not care to take the chances of using any other. It is absolutely pure and delivered to patrons morning or evening, or both. If you have never tried Excelsior Dairy milk, you don't know what really good milk is.

ANOTHER PIONEER DEPARTED.

Death at Sebastopol, Last Monday, of George J. Ragle.

George J. Ragle, a pioneer citizen of Sonoma county, died at his home, near Sebastopol, Monday night. He left a wife and son, Alex. Ragle.

The funeral occurred on Wednesday, and was under the auspices of the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was an honored member.

Mr. Ragle was a native of Sullivan county, Tennessee, where he was born in 1826. He came to California in 1849, and engaged at mining in Bear valley for a time. Not satisfied with that pursuit, he left it and went to teaming in the Russian river district, and in the fall of 1850 he bought eighty acres of land in Green valley. In 1854 he married Margaret Jane Fruits. His agricultural enterprises prospered steadily to the time of his death, when his landed possessions amounted to 325 acres. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and also Lafayette Lodge, No. 136, F. and A. M., of Sebastopol. In politics he was a Democrat.

SPEED THE PLAN.

Our Chance for Getting an Electric Railway.

Proposition to Connect Petaluma, Santa Rosa and Sebastopol by Rapid Transit.

W. S. Dillon of Portland was one of the outsiders to spend a merry Christmas in Petaluma, the day being passed by him at the home of his sister, Mrs. L. O. West.

Mr. Dillon's great specialty is in the line of building electric railways. He has built and equipped several, including the system at Portland, which has been a very gratifying success, and the San Francisco electric line.

For a long time past Mr. Dillon and a Chicago capitalist—J. N. Thompson, by name—have been considering the feasibility of an electric railway line connecting Sebastopol and Santa Rosa with Petaluma. The matter has been quietly but thoroughly investigated by them and they have concluded that the plan is entirely feasible. They have the capital and the expert knowledge of the business, and if they can get sufficient co-operation from local capitalists and the public the enterprise will soon be set in motion.

These gentlemen would expect our people to take $50,000 worth of stock in the railway. When this is secured they will go to work on the plans and have the road in working order within five months thereafter.

This article is the first intimation of the plan of these operators. They have not as yet sought anyone's co-operation in the matter, but they will soon be ready to lay before the public the particulars of the proposition the general

This article is the first intimation of the plan of these operators. They have not as yet sought anyone's co-operation in the matter, but they will soon be ready to lay before the public the particulars of the proposition the general plan of which is outlined above.

The great desirability of an electric railway line between the three cities named is so well understood as to need no elucidation. The matter has been fully exploited in these columns a number of times, as well as through all the other newspapers of the county. Several times an attempt has been made to organize a company for the purpose of building such a line, but it has always failed, principally on account of the fact that the parties who were doing the organizing had much to gain and nothing to lose by the operations of the company. That condition of affairs will not obtain in the present case. Mr. Dillon and his associate will, when the proper time arrives, make a fair, business-like proposition, and it is to be hoped that it may result in the success of an enterprise which would be an enormous benefit to three cities and a big tributary territory.

Mr. Dillon returned to San Francisco on the Monday evening train, but he will revisit Petaluma in the near future.

Horticultural Society.

The Sonoma County Horticultural society met in regular session at its rooms in the court house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, President Roberts presiding, says the Democrat.

A lengthy and animated discussion occurred on the proposition of abandoning the society on account of the small attendance attracted by the meetings, and the apparent lack of interest manifested thereby.

Mr. Hart thought there was no reason for talking about disbanding. He ascribed the lack of attendance at the last few meetings to the extra farm work which the members may have had on hand.

President Roberts also took a strong stand in favor of keeping the society on its feet. After the first of the year the attendance, he believed, would increase.

whom attended, in spite of the dust some of them had to come with their parents in the cold and inclement weather.

The large Christmas tree was illuminated with scores of candles and lit with nuts, candies, oranges, etc. On the other hand, the children appeared under the large tree on the platform recited their pieces in clear and distinct voice, while groups of children sang hymns and psalms as though they had years of training, while in fact it was only the work performed by the pastor, Rev. Scholz, in less than three months. He had been ably assisted by Mrs. Edelmann, who was untiring in her efforts to make the concert a success. The quartette also helped to entertain the large audience by rendering selections befitting the occasion.

After the presents were distributed and the benediction spoken, all went homewards, loud in praise for Rev. Scholz, a great many promising to come along the church, which has had a very good start under its present respected pastor.

BAPTIST CHRISTMAS TREE.—The Baptist Sunday school had its celebration at the church on Monday evening. The church was prettily decorated in an appropriate way, a huge Christmas tree with its wealth of delightful fruit being of course, the main feature. A big banner suspended above the stage and bearing the legend "Merry Christmas," was a very admirable addition. A nice program was rendered, consisting of recitations, dialogues, solos, choruses, duets, quartets, etc., and executed principally by the children. At the conclusion of the program the presents were distributed, to the unfeigned joy of the school. The pastor gracefully filled the position of master of ceremonies. The occasion was a most joyous one from first to last and gave great pleasure to a house full of people, for every seat was taken and many were obliged to stand. It was, in truth, a very merry Christmas to the present.

Improvements—Injured by a Run-away.—The Demorest Medal Contest—Notes.

SEBASTOPOL, February 13, 1893.
A half-dozen houses, and more coming!
The late Mrs. Morton, whose body was brought from San Francisco on the train yesterday, was buried in the Sebastopol cemetery.

The Sunday school of the M. E. church will have special Easter services.

A veritable Fourth of July! More vigorous firecrackers never were handled. Among the inhabitants of Chinatown singing, feasting and making merry have been the rule for days past. Remains of the Chinese New Year celebration may yet be seen.

On Tuesday, February 6th, the horse driven by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Currey became frightened at the noise of the Chinese firecrackers and ran away, throwing the old couple to the ground and injuring Mrs. Currey seriously.

The Demorest medal contest is a thing of the past, and there is no doubt that the winner Miss Mamie Little—is very happy. The participants are all to be congratulated for the honest efforts they made to secure the prizes. In deciding a contest of so much importance as the public awarding of a medal, the judges find it necessary to conform closely to the rules laid down for their government.

There was a heavy frost last night, and at 7 A. M. this morning the thermometer stood at 30 degrees above. Today is full of sunshine.

Mrs. Kennedy of Wyoming, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. William Johnson of Pleasant Hill, expects to remain in California for several months.

The tank which is "fire company" for the buildings of the Sebastopol Packing company is being refilled.

Mr. Ayers, the popular elocutionist, deserves praise for the admirable way in which his pupils acquitted themselves in the Demorest medal contest.

G. P. Woodward has just moved to Santa Rosa. WINTER.

The City Board of Trustees held a special meeting Monday evening for the purpose of considering the Pless Dredging and Reclamation company's claim for work done.

As has heretofore been mentioned in these columns, there is a big discrepancy between the company's calculation of the work done and the estimate of the same made by the city engineer. The difference in a money consideration amounts to about $600.

The figures and estimates presented by the city engineer were not final, as there had not been time to correct and prove them, hence it was impossible to come to any definite conclusion in the matter.

Evân Williams, president, and J. C. Hamilton, one of the directors and principal owners of the dredging company, were present and addressed the meeting in regard to the disputed claim. The gentlemen clearly showed a disposition to ask only what was fair and right in the matter, and it goes without saying that the members of the board were inclined to meet them on those grounds. It was decided that the company should have the privilege of examining the city engineer's notes and figures for the purpose of reviewing his figures and his methods of calculation.

There being only about $1,000 yet remaining in the fund for the improvement of the river, it was by vote decided that no further work in that line be done at present.

The board then adjourned.

Locking the Stable Door.

During the past few days the supervisors have received a number of communications from jail manufacturers and jail equipment dealers expressing sorrow on account of some recent jail escapes from this county and offering consolation in the way of new ideas for the jail. Some of the letters are amusing and when they were read by the clerk caused even the sedate chairman to chuckle a little in his left coat sleeve. One of the enterprising builders after condoling with the board said he could fix the cells so secure that a supervisor could not cut his way out in less than six months to say nothing about how long it would take an Opening of the Schools—A Theo- sophical Lecture.

SEBASTOPOL, March 14, 1894,
Sonoma Day at the fair called some of our Sebastopol people to San Francisco on Saturday last.

Mr. Thomson, of Burroughs & Son, is suffering from inflammatory rheumatism.

The schools in the vicinity of Sebastopol have opened for the spring term.

Mr. Mayfield is to remove to Petaluma, where he and Mr. Wilkinson will go into the blacksmithing business. We wish them success in their new enterprise.

The attendance at the theosophical lecture given by Mrs. Harris of Oakland at Grange hall on the evening of March 2nd was good. The questions asked showed that the subject was new and strange to most of the audience.

There will be the usual semi-monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. Friday afternoon at 3 p. m., in the Congregational church.

The Chinamen who murdered their brother Chinaman at the Leiber place have been arrested.

A free show attracted the boys for two evenings last week.

The lot formerly owned by Geo. Ulrich, known as the "Perry place" has passed into the hands of Mr. Chiles of Santa Rosa.

M. Flavian Berton's "shoe store" building is about completed. Then, too, the cottage which is being erected on his lot is almost ready for its occupants.

Sunday was a beautiful day.

THE RIDERLESS HORSE.
A Thrilling Tale of a Mystery of the Road.

For the convenience of readers the following lurid tale will soon be issued in paper covers. To those, however, who prefer to absorb it direct from the COURIER, it is stated that the forms of the paper have been stereotyped, and if the Petaluma News company does not jump its agreement to circulate it, thereby christening us Dennis, all will yet be well. Without further preface the tail of the riderless horse is unfolded—it were inhuman to dock it, so it is given at length, the "easy, flowing style" being chosen.

It was early morning in our beautiful city, naught but the frolicsome birds, known in society as larks, were abroad in the land, and the inference is that they were creeping stealthily home to snatch a few hours' sleep before Duty knocked at their chamber door, croaking as raven never croaked before. All of which is necessary to prove that, as before remarked it, was a fine day.

On Bodega avenue, that happy hunting ground of the predatory rich (with apologies to Arthur McHewin) geese and other poultry, a riderless horse was seen grazing along the roadside, with one eye sweeping the horizon for the city's gallant (?) poundmaster, while the other blinked mild contentment at the choice feed, served free while you wait.

A little farther on an overcoat lay at the side of the road, as if the wearer, wishing to free himself from its encumbering folds, had tossed it aside as a matter of little moment in a question of life and death.

The amateur detective, who had come all unaware (after the manner of his pro-

Mr. and Mrs. Fyfe have sold their interest in the Times to Mr. Brackett of Sacramento. We are sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Fyfe, but we welcome Mr. Brackett and wish him success.

Mrs. Yagley and daughter have returned from San Francisco where they have been visiting friends.

The fire in the Anahy hotel, on the evening of March 16th, created quite a "scare" among our people, who turned out with buckets to render whatever assistance lay in their power. However, it proved to be only a scare.

The new store and hall to be erected in the place of the old Janssen hall will be an ornament to the town.

An addition is being put to the store formerly owned by Mrs. Wilton. Improvement is the order in and around Sebastopol.

Mr. Pickle will move into the house formerly occupied by Mr. Mayfield.

Mr. Wm. Johnson is building a new drier on his already well improved place. His old drier is not large enough in which to handle his large crops of fruit. His last shipment brought him in the neighborhood of four thousand dollars.

Orchardists are all busy spraying and plowing and getting their orchards in order.

The inside of the Pleasant Hill church has been renovated; the outside is soon to undergo the same process.

Mr. Rogers preaches in the Congregational church every Lord's Day at 3 p. m. The regular prayer meeting service is held on Thursday afternoons at 2:30 p. m. The Y. P. S. C. E. meets every Sunday afternoon at 7:30 p. m. A Junior Endeavor is to be organized this week. Sunday school every Lord's Day.

What might have been a serious accident happened last week. A buggy containing two young people was in some way overturned; fortunately, the young lady's brother was near and with his brawny arms set the buggy in its natural position. No one was badly hurt; but the buggy is being treated.

Mr. Stephen Morse and Miss Weeks were united by marriage last week. We wish them joy and gladness.

Miss Flossie Christie's "Little Missionaries," sung on Easter, was much enjoyed by those who listened to her. Miss Flossie, who is just a "little tot," has a bright future before her. Master Frankie Ballard's declamation, "The Pennies," was much appreciated. Surely, this is the "Children's Age."

Fishing is quite the fashion now.

The temperance program on April 1st was pronounced good. The exhibition was well attended.

The stockholders of the packing company had a business meeting last week.

The funeral services of Frank Kauffmann were conducted in the Adventist church in this place on Sunday last. The sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of their many friends. Many people from the surrounding country attended the funeral.

The benefit given by the W. C. T. U. on Saturday last was a grand success.

More than thirty dollars was raised.

Mr. and Mrs. Richie entertained their friends on the evening of March 30th at their home near Freestone.

Another wedding very soon.

The children had a joyous time at the fair. They all say "thank you, Mr. Chronicle, for the pleasure you gave us."

The Santa Rosas were not ready to play the Sebastopol boys at baseball on Saturday. We believe our boys call that a victory.

Improvements about town are progressing.

A POLITICAL ADDRESS.—J. L. Gilbert

NOT THE FIRST ATTACK.—Frank Kauff-

Stockton while there for medical treatment, was a rancher, 43 years of age.
He left a wife and two children, a son and a daughter, aged about fifteen years.
Mrs. Kauffman is a sister of M. O. Meeker.
At the inquest Mr. Meeker testified:
"He had had two attacks since I have known him and one previously. They usually came in the spring, and when suffering from them he would sit for days with his hands clasped or would cry hysterically. Two years ago he was treated by Dr. Wachendorff, who helped him, and last spring by fighting the attack mentally he succeeded in escaping
it. This spring, however, he told his wife that it was coming, and that he couldn't fight it off. He was in despair, and I advised them to hunt up Dr.
Wachendorff, and they did so."

I left my patient readers somewhat unceremoniously last week, to "seek the reclusion which the cabin grants." This time it is the '49 Mining Camp cabin.
 What most impressed this "tenderfoot" was the dirt on everything. I could have sworn that it was the original dust (not gold dust) that accumulated there in the "days of old, the days of gold, the days of '49." In the "museum" of the camp are two dilapidated wooden treasure boxes—Wells, Fargo & Co. The first I examined with interest. It bore the explanatory card, "The last piece of carpenter work done by Black Bart." The dove-tailed bottom of the box had been removed with neatness and dispatch.
 What a pity, thought I, that he did not turn his attention to cabinet making (like Grover?) instead of pursuing the elusive treasure box and, incidentally, the penitentiary. Under the aforesaid box was another—originally its twin. This also bore a card of explanation: "The last piece of carpenter work done by Black Bart." How is this, said I to myself.
 Am I seeing double? Which is the legiti-mate and which is the fake? The second box had been clumsily opened with a hatchet; so, as viewers were consider-ately allowed to take their choice, I thought Black Bart might stand a better chance to get a "sitivation" if the former job were shown as a specimen of his handiwork. But somehow this duplicate business dampened my enthusiasm over the relics, and the Commodore granted my prayer to move henceward. We drifted into the dance house—the wind is responsible. Couldn't hold our heads on outside. The fandango inside was supposed to turn people's heads, but for some reason or other we couldn't enter into the spirit of it worth a cent, so we gave it but very little of our precious time (it was near the closing hour when we went in).

A well-equipped (at least so I am informed by my cicerone the Commodore) gambling layout was in full blast in its own primitive premises, and a party of dyspeptic looking San Francisco youths were indulging in the mild excitement of losing dollars to the tunes ground out of a wheezy accordeon and a squeaky fid-turn on its own account, in the embrace of the wind, winding up its mad career by smashing into the basin of the fountain. Some people prefer a little water with their jin.

 Another "don't forget." You must be sure to go into Taber's cosy domain. A huge fireplace filled with blazing logs greeted us when we blew inside the doors, and it was the most inviting thing at the fair just then. So we drew up comfortable rockers near it, and from that time forth nothing else under the sun had interest for PEGGY.

SEBASTOPOL ITEMS.

SEBASTOPOL, April 24, 1894.
 Our rain was all cloud.
 William Dale and Miss Cora Boswell set out to sail the matrimonial sea on Saturday, April 21st. May their voyage be a pleasant one.
 Mr. Emmerson was buried on Sunday, April 15th. The services were conducted by Mr. Bartley in the Pleasant Hill church.
 The "Pawnee man" has been holding forth at Sebastopol for more than a week.
 "The Last Loaf" was played by local talent in Barnes' hall on the evening of April 20th. There is no need to say that the play was entertaining, or that the attendance was good.
 The school children are eager for the rest that institute week will bring them.
 The May day picnic is to be given by the Sebastopol brass band on May 1st.
 The many friends of Mrs. Parr are sorry to know that she is ill.
 The new buildings on Main street are nearing completion. They will be ornaments to the town.
 Mr. Williams is remodeling the inside of his house. When the remodeling is done the house will be neat and cosy.
 WINTER.
 AN AMATEUR FOOTPAD.—There is not a little talk about an alleged "hold-up"
 at an early hour last Sunday morning, when two barbers were stopped on Third street and ordered to hold up their hands. John Whitson and Dan McGil-oray were the intended victims, but it seems that the attacking party was the principal victim, after all. Finding that he had tackled the wrong kind of people to scare, he suddenly became intensely ducks, old, $4 00; young, $2@2 50 per doz; geese, young, $2@2 50; old, $1 80 per pair. Turkeys, hens, 9c; gobblers, 8c per lb.

Eggs.—There is a better tone to the market than for some time past, although quotations are no higher, as yet, than last reported. Choice fresh white ranch eggs are still quotable at 10 cts. per dozen.

BUTTER.—This market is firmer and shows another advance, owing to the prevailing drouth and packing operations. We quote: Fancy, 17 to 18 cts.; choice, 16 to 17 cts.; creamery, 20 cts. per lb.

MEATS.

Meats are without change from last week's figures. We quote: Beef, 5@6 cts.; veal, 4@5 cts.; pork, 4½@4¾ cts.; 5@7 cts.; lamb, 5@7 cts. per lb.

A SUCCESSFUL FISHER LAD.—Charlie Rogers, who lives in East Petaluma, has heard a good deal, lately, of the exploits of the lads who go fishing—and who have frequently come back with more stories than fishes. He thought he would try the sport himself, so on Friday he sallied forth with hook and line and tried his luck at Black Point. In about two hours he had caught seventy-five fish of different varieties—carp, catfish, smelt, perch, etc., and these he brought home in triumph as tangible evidence in support of his piscatorial sport. Now all the boys of Charlie's acquaintance want him to go fishing with them, to show them where the fish are and how to get them out of their native element.

A CHESTNUT.—A good story is out, says an exchange, on one of the young men of our town. He is very particular about his washing, and recently he wrote a note to his washerwoman and one to his best girl, and he accidentally put the wrong address on each envelope. The washerwoman, a married lady, was not very pleased with an invitation to take a ride the next evening, and when the young lady read: "If you tumble up my shirt bosom any more, at the last time, I will go somewhere else," she cried all evening, and declared she would Rufus Murphy vs. A. Morayen—Dropped from calendar.

Luiga Domicia vs. D. Cassassa—Continued to April 30th.

D. W. Ravencroft vs. Wm Van Alen et al—Order making Gaston Straus defendant.

LOTS OF CEMENT WORK.—On Friday the cement walk on the Fifth street front of the McNear residence was completed. This was a strip 200 feet in length, and it has been done in a very thorough and painstaking manner. This job concludes work on a frontage of 700 feet. In all, Mr. McNear has laid over 700 square feet of cement walk up to date, and by the last order of the city board of trustees he will lay nearly as much more at various places.

ENTERTAINMENT AT SEBASTOPOL.—A very interesting dramatic and musical entertainment was given under the auspices of the W. O. T. U. at Sebastopol Friday evening, when a local company presented the temperance play, "The Last Leaf," in excellent style. The concert program was supplied by the Santa Rosa-Petaluma quartet. C. R. Winfield of Petaluma sang a solo, which was received with warm applause and heartily encored.

A HARD ROAD TO TRAVEL.—There is great complaint among residents in East Petaluma over the condition of D street, from the bridge to Bremen street. Those who have occasion to drive over this rough roadway say that it is about the worst piece of road within the city limits. The heavy traffic on this street requires that it be kept in at least passable condition, and if it is not repaired soon a vigorous howl may be expected from a large number of people personally interested in the matter.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.—Henry Fried, one of Healdsburg's pioneer citizens, died at his home in that town Tuesday morning. Cancer of the stomach was the cause of death. He was born in the town of Gaingau-Minst r, Bavaria, Germany, in 1831. He removed to New York, from which state he came to California in 1849. He has resided in Healdsburg since 1866. His widow and five children survive him.

Sam. Jones, who was seriously injured in a runaway Saturday evening, is as well as could be expected, and many friends hope soon to see her fully recovered from her injuries.

D. Crawforth, the superintendent of the Sonoma Stock farm, belonging to Messrs. G. Fair, received word from headquarters last week not to train the string of splendid trotters he had on the farm.

The index finger on little Cleo Ross' hand was cut off, one day last week, as she was playing near the circular in her father's wood yard at the corner of B and Seventh streets, Santa Rosa.

Colorado Sam, who is rusticating in Petaluma for a few days, was breaking a wild, untamed plowhorse at the corner of Washington and Kentucky streets Saturday forenoon. It bucked like a young hen.

Major Woodworth, in going over the road records in the supervisory office, found a petition for a public way in Sonoma township dated September 14, 1855, and signed by Fichtelberg, the bookkeeper.

W. H. Briggs, of the Phoenix Iron Works, are engaged in making the cast-iron for ten large furnaces to be used in the Sonoma's dryer. Four have been completed and set up, and the others will be completed within a few days.

The Rebekah lodge will give a delightful entertainment at Turner hall on Friday evening, May 3rd, for the benefit of the Orphans' Home fund. A very active musical and literary program will be rendered, to be followed by singing.

Mr. C. E. Reed, Al Hall, Wm. Steiger, A. Chapman and E. E. Drees, the four selected by the Petaluma Trap and Hunt club to represent that body at the intimate Target tournament at the winter fair, took Saturday morning's train to fill their engagement.

About twenty-five of the students of the Sonoma Grammar school, accompanied by their teachers Miss Gingery and Miss Shaw, enjoyed a day's outing Saturday at Maxwell's Grove, one of the most picturesque picnic grounds in the Sonoma valley.

J. J. Murphy, the well-known barber, formerly of this place, and a printer also, now foreman of the Goldendale Sentinel, State of Washington. Murphy's customers were like velvet to his tonorial pomers, and the Courier hopes his customers will be as velvet also.

There was a good breeze all day and enough of clouds to prevent the sun from too rapidly absorbing the moisture which was wanted to go the other way.

A. Martinelli, the assignee of Peter Corippo, an insolvent, will sell a lot of dairy stock and fixtures, and a lease-hold of the Gordon ranch near Bloomfield at auction on Monday, May 7th. See adjacent columns.

Santa Rosa Canton, Patriarchs Militant, again won the trophy in the competitive drill in San Francisco Thursday afternoon. This makes the third time the Santa Rosa Canton has walked off with the first prize.

TOES IN DAILY PERIL.—There are several uneven places on the sidewalks on some of the residence streets lately improved with new cement walks, at points where they join work of a slightly different grade, that are the cause of no little annoyance—and even, it is reported, profanity. People who walk along the streets at a brisk pace and stub their toes violently against an unseen projection are not apt to enjoy the sensation. There are several places of this kind that ought to be attended to, for the sake of physical comfort and morality.

A GOOD EXHIBIT.—Professor C. H. Neilsen, principal of the Sebastopol school, has on display at Cowen's Bazaar an exhibit of school work which is worth examination by anyone interested in educational matters. It is the every-day work of the pupils in his school, and represents each branch taught in every grade. The exhibit will be sent to the Midwinter fair tomorrow, to take its proper place among the best exhibits which Sonoma county can show to the world.

SIDEWALK REPAIRS NEEDED.—The walk on the Washington street front of the vacant lot on the corner of that thoroughfare and Kentucky street is in an excellent condition to work up a big damage suit against the city. There are several holes in it large enough to pass a child's foot through, and it is easy to conclude what would be the result of a broken leg which was caused by the city's neglect

BEAUTIFUL RAINBOW TROUT.—Frank Collins and Joe Cowen received from a San Francisco friend, yesterday, two superb Shasta rainbow trout—the first of the season. One weighs five and the other three pounds. Frank says that he and Joe expect to give a trout supper to some of their friends this evening, "if Dugdell and Carter don't steal the trout."

political parties do after having participated in an "honest vote and fair count." Solano is over thirty-five thousand ahead. The Alameda press will come off its perch, and not remain a stumbling block for little Kings county.

THE "League of Republican editors" is having a hard time in trying to prove the editors good and competent American citizens, entitled to a voice in a free constitutional government, while they are "leagued together for a purpose." Of course they have wheels with pneumatic tires in their heads, with a political boss in the saddle plying a booted piston rod.

Measles — Improvements — Schools to Close — Personal Notes.

SEBASTOPOL, May 22, 1894.

Mrs. Showalter and Mrs. Fennel returned from San Francisco where they have been doing the fair.

The measles has not served Sebastopol badly. Those who have had it are getting along nicely.

Many new comers are to be seen on our streets. We are glad to welcome strangers to our midst.

There is no end to improvements in Sebastopol. M. Flavian Berton is putting up two more new cottages.

Robert Hardin has been improving already neat property.

The G. A. R's will hold services in the M. E. church next Lord's Day.

Mr. Bolster of Oregon preached in the M. E. church last Lord's Day evening.

Miss Florence Amos is visiting from San Francisco.

"Medicine men" never miss Sebastopol.

Mr. Delaney has leased a small place near town and will remove there next week.

Children's day will be observed in the Sunday schools in the near future.

Crops in this vicinity are looking well. Farmers are making hay.

Meetings of the Odd Fellows' andasonic lodges last Saturday evening.

Jenssen and Worden have moved into their new store in the Jenssen building.

Wild strawberries are ripe and the "barefoot boy" knows where they grow.

Our schools are preparing for their closing time.

The political ball has begun to roll.

Company C Goes into Camp at Lakeville — The Wagon with the Supplies.

The advance guard of Company C, 5th Infantry Regiment, N. G. C., composed of Sergeant Hurd, Musician Mackintosh, and Private Bush, left with Curran the caterer, John Gist and a wagonload of provisions and camp equipment Saturday morning at eleven o'clock.

As the wagon went through Main street, those who saw it were much amused to read the placard which Fred Nauert had tacked on the sides. It bore the legend:

Supplies for Cripple Creek, From Nauert's Cash Store.

Mr. Gist returned at 5:30 in the afternoon and reported that the roads were fine and that the boys would have everything ready by seven in the evening. At about twenty-two men left under 1st Lieutenant Phillips, to the music of fife and drum. Part of their march was in the drizzling rain. As the encampment was only for one day, the boys filled their knapsacks with paper, shavings or anything they could find, so as to make them look plump and soldier-like.

At nine o'clock Captain Thomas Malley, alone composing the second section, commenced the march on foot, the rain spattering down in good shape. Mr. Malley declared that he had done it before while duck hunting and that he could do it again for his country. Private Joseph Cowen accompanied him as far as the D street bridge but had to turn back so as to be on hand to postpone the baseball game Sunday, if it should be deemed necessary. By the time Mr. Malley reached Lakeville, numerous pneumatic limbs were no doubt sadly in need of their Doctor Captain.

Sergeant Arthur Adams of Company C left just after the captain began his march in the intention of overtaking and making the march as a part of the second squad of two members. Lieutenant Stockdale left after midnight during a lull in the storm.

The encampment was a taste of what of friends. The funeral was to have taken place in Petaluma yesterday, but the shock of her daughter's death had so completely prostrated Mrs. Meyer that it was impossible for her to be present, so it was postponed until today. The remains will arrive on the 8:30 train and be conveyed to Blackburn's undertaking parlors, where the funeral will be held; the interment to be in Siloam cemetery, at 10 o'clock.

SEBASTOPOL NEWS.

Freighting by Wagon—Wants the Conventions—All Occupied.

J. W. Pickrell, a wellknown freighter of Sebastopol, was in town with a couple of his teams Friday to get lumber which is to go into one of the many new houses now in course of construction in that lively little burg.

Mr. Pickrell said that he was doing a big business in the way of hauling freight from Petaluma to Sebastopol. The people of that town get a direct advantage from Petaluma's waterway. Goods received here on the steamer Gold can be hauled to Sebastopol and delivered to the merchants there at an actual saving of thirty-five cents per ton, allowing the teamster $3 per day. Mr. Pickrell says that a large amount of freight will be handled on this plan during the present summer and fall. He declares that Sebastopol people take pleasure in standing in with Petaluma on any kind of a proposition that comes up, and with a significant twinkle in his eye, he added: "By the way, one good turn deserves another. We haven't asked you folks for much, up to the present time, but we are going to ask you to help us get the conventions this year."

Another Sebastopol man who was in Petaluma Friday said that there were only three vacant houses in his lively little town. "And by the time I get home tonight," he added, "they may all be occupied."

ONE of Sandow's great feats was to lift two men arranged on a Chinese bamboo to form a dumb bell. The Burns and Buckley combination will exhibit at Sacramento this week, and Colonel Daniel Burns will not only handle 848 men as a dumb bell, but will also handle them as "dumb, driven cattle." And the 848 will consider themselves competent to run the state government.

THE twenty-eight candidates for the Republican nomination for governor continued to be candidates until the Republican boss held his primary election in San Francisco. They were mentioned in connection with the governorship by the innocent band of hope known as the "league of Republican editors," whose opinions do not seem to meet the respect of their boss.

F. O. ATKINSON of Hanford was arrested at Los Angeles recently on a felony charge, and committed suicide by taking poison. SEBASTOPOL NOTES.

Fruit Shipments—Lectures for All—Improvements—Notes.

SEBASTOPOL, June 20, 1894.

Is this haying weather?

The packing house under the management of Mr. Hill makes its regular shipments of fruit to Chicago.

Mrs. Sanford of Oakland, addressed the people of Sebastopol on the occasion of "Finance" on the evening of June 9th, and on the "Temperance" question on June 10th.

The band serenaded the people of Sebastopol last Tuesday evening.

Fishing is still in vogue.

Mr. Hotle, a student of the University of the Pacific, occupied the pulpit in the M. E. church on last Lord's day.

Mr. Rogers, pastor of the Congregational church, has been ill.

The temperance lecture by Mr. Rich was both interesting and instructive; and the new Janssen hall is a pleasant place to hold such meetings.

The camp meeting which is to begin July 5th near Sebastopol is the subject of a great deal of thought among church people.

A number of our people went to the fair on Sonoma day. The Santa Clara exhibit attracted a great deal of attention.

Mr. Hill has disposed of the greater part of the cherries grown in the vicinity of Sebastopol, besides many which have been shipped in from the outside.

The lumber which is being shipped into Sebastopol means improvements are still going on march is to Washington. Now there are some people who look upon Mr. Millet as a regular public "josh," a ghost or phantom of a political party, once strong in power. But this is an erroneous idea that has been formed about him. He was once in politics but now he is out, and that is all there is about it. He should be credited with many weeks of hard work as a stone mason, done recently, and therefore as a man eligible to a membership in the Federated Trade Unions of America, he should be entitled to an audience, through courtesy. Mr. Millet said: There were fifty or seventy-five Petaluma men who would have gone under me and I am sorry I did not go. If I had gone, I'll tell you, they would not have put me into jail for stepping on the grass—because I would have stepped on the ground. And sir I would have demanded that they hear me if I had to stay there all summer."

The Coming Fourth.

There has been no concerted effort to create a water spread-eagle celebration in Petaluma on the Fourth of July, but there will be numerous small enterprises, public and private, so that the masses of people in all classes will stay in or about home and have a good time.

The ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union are sparing no pains to make their picnic at Church's hill a great success and are carrying out many details in their plans.

The Driving club will have a number of horse races in the afternoon, and the bicyclists are considering a plan to give three wheel races of one-quarter, one-half and one mile each, between heats. W.

THE COUNTY CONVENTIONS. Sebastopol Wants to be Chosen as the Site of Their Deliberations.

Sebastopol is ambitious to become to Sonoma county what Sacramento is to the state. It wants the political conventions of the county to meet there, present their candidates and deliberate upon their chances for obtaining a glorious victory. The Times says:

"There are five hundred voters in and around Sebastopol who want the political managers of the old parties to recognize this town in selecting a place for holding the county nominating conventions. The delegates to the conventions from this place are not now sharpening their knives for the scalp of this, that and the other candidate. Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Healdsburg, Sonoma and Cloverdale will each get a square deal in Sebastopol, and so will every other precinct in the county.

"Hitherto it has been the fate of Sebastopol to be forced into the background and strangled into submission, but this year we are making our calculations on being recognized because the town has made a larger growth than any other place in the county, and because the voting element is entirely new and hard to estimate. By reason of rapid growth and added population, the voters of Sebastopol hold the balance of power in Sonoma county. Besides, Sebastopol is entitled to the conventions from a sense of justice alone.

COWARDLY CRIME.

The Railroad Near Cloverdale Barri- caded.

An attempt was made to wreck a passenger train on the San Francisco & North Pacific railway, between Asti and Cloverdale, Saturday night, some person or persons as yet unknown; but fortunately their fiendish plans miscarried.

The attempt occurred at a lonely spot on the road a few miles from Asti. Train No. 13, a through passenger, was hurrying along to Cloverdale when the engine suddenly crashed into a pile of ties which had been placed on the track.

The engineer immediately reversed the machinery and was able to pull up just as another pile of ties was reached.

The shock of the collision and the halt made by the train caused considerable alarm among the passengers, many of whom got off the train and rushed forward to join in the investigation which the engineer and fireman at once began.

It was a blundering attempt at train wrecking. The ties had been piled up with the idea that if the first obstruction did not accomplish the desired damage the second would.

The track was soon cleared and the train proceeded cautiously on to its northern destination, where the affair was reported by wire to the officials in the city.

Every possible means will be resorted to by the railroad officials to secure the arrest of those who were implicated in plot. The road is in no way identified with the strike and members of the A. R. U denounce it, and are anxious that the guilty persons should be apprehended.

THEY WANT ROADS.

Green Valley People Take Steps Toward Big Improvements.

Thursday afternoon, June 27th, an enthusiastic meeting was held in Mr. H. Lapum's fruit dryer, Sebastopol, for the purpose of discussing the possibility of inducing either the S. P. or the S. F. & N. P. Ry. company to extend their line and through Green valley. The meeting was called to order by Mr. James Gregson, after which H. Lapum was elected chairman and L. V. Shepherd, secretary. Lossen Ross then stated the object of the meeting. After some discussion in regard to the inducements and feasibility of a railroad through the valley, it was unanimously agreed that there was a sufficient amount of freight there and beyond to induce a railroad to go in after it. M. C. Meeker moved that a committee of five be appointed to lay the matter before the S. P. company. The motion prevailed. The following gentlemen were appointed: M. C. Meeker, Occidental; Lossen Ross, C. Winkler, J. Parrington, Green valley; A. B. Lemmon, Santa Rosa.

In discussing the question of right-of-way, those present who were interested said they would cheerfully give the right-of-way through their lands. Mr. Williams not only offered free right-of-way, but said he would give enough ground for a depot upon condition that the railroad follow the old survey.

The railroad question having been disposed of, the question of securing the right-of-way for a wagon road leading from Green valley church to intersect the new Occidental and Santa Rosa wagon road at Chris Schlake's ranch was discussed. The following committee was appointed to secure right-of-way: Lossen Ross, C. Winkler, J. Parrington and M. C. Meeker.

Mr. Parrington being present and interested in said road, gave the right-of-way through his ranch, providing the public fence and grade same.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the call of the chair.

Messrs. Hart, Newman and Whitaker of Santa Rosa and vicinity being present the fruit question received considerable attention. The gentlemen represented the Sonoma County Fruit exchange which has lately been organized. They succeeded in eliciting a good deal of interest, also a goodly number of promises to take stock—Republican.

TO FRUIT GROWERS.

Proposition to Establish a Fruit Packing and Shipping House in Petaluma.

J. W. Cassidy, the fruit raiser, of this city, received a letter yesterday from W. O. Hill, manager of the W. O. Hill Fruit Shipping company of Santa Rosa and Sebastopol. The latter states that he will come to Petaluma on next Friday, instead of Tuesday, as pre-arranged, for the purpose of conferring with the fruit men of this vicinity in regard to establishing a fruit packing and shipping warehouse in Petaluma.

All the fruit raisers of this city are requested to meet Mr. Hill at some place and time of the day to be designated later.

He says that unless the railroad strike cripples matters that he can make the growers all good money, and put them on such a basis that they will hereafter be independent of the canneries during seasons when they are not in operation. The railroad company will supply the refrigerator cars with ice in Petaluma or Santa Rosa instead of Sacramento if the institution which Mr. Hill proposes proves profitable, and shows a likelihood of becoming permanent.

It is hoped that every fruit grower will look to the best interests of all concerned and meet Mr. Hill. He will unfold to them all the details of his plan, and if necessary will remain here two days so as to see all. If given proper encouragement, he will surely establish a branch warehouse here, and it would be a big boon to the community.

To the Policy Holders of the Southern Pacific Insurance Company.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the above-named company they decided to reinsure its business, and in accordance therewith the same was transferred to the London & Lancashire of England, the latter company having assumed the entire risks of the Southern California; the same are now under the erect a packing house on the road and thereby save handling.

After much encouraging conversation relative to the plan, J. W. Cassidy offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That we, the fruit growers of Petaluma and vicinity, hereby invite W. C. Hill to establish a fruit packing house at Petaluma, in order that we can properly handle this season's growing crops, and promise him all the support possible, it being understood that he is to ship the fruit through the National Fruit Association for us on commission if we so elect or that we be allowed to sell to him outright at prices to be hereafter decided upon.

The above was adopted unanimously. Mr. Hill said that he was pleased with the encouragement expressed and that he would order his supplies and have things ready for the first of the crop provided the railroad blockade is raised.

What They Did at Bennett Valley.

The program of exercises on the Fourth at Bennett Valley Grange hall was rendered in an admirable manner, and was as follows: Vocal music, "Red, White and Blue," by the Glee club; prayer by Chaplain Rev. W. Angwin; original poem by Mrs. Holman Talbot; Declaration of Independence, Mrs. Perry Whitaker. Rev. Goodenough, lecturer of the state grange, then delivered an oration which was listened to with much attention, as the speaker devoted much of his time to a discussion of the present state of affairs affecting this country. After this thirteen children, boys and girls, dressed in old continental style with powdered wigs, cocked hats and swallow-tails, each one representing one of the prominent actors of the old union, Washington, Madison, Jefferson, etc., and representing the original thirteen colonies, took the platform and rendered Yankee Doodle in a charming manner, the two least little tots, of three or four years, taking the characters of Uncle Sam and Columbia.

The people then dispersed among the trees and enjoyed a lunch. Afterward a arrival of the players, in either case always causing postponements, made the cranks of the county seat murmur loud murmurings against the management. When there was no game in Santa Rosa, a great crowd would be present and receive disappointment for their pay, but when the manager did get his men together there wouldn't be enough gate receipts to pay for the boys' dinner.

Jack has had a hard time of it this season. He will officially notify the officers of the Central California Baseball league of his determination today. There is also talk of disbanding the Vallejo team, so that baseball matters are virtually dead, unless some person jumps in and wakes everybody up with new men, fresh energy and the Coldstream band.

WHERE ARE THE GOSLINGS?—Justice Seawell of Sebastopol had a case tried before him in Santa Rosa recently. The case was transferred from Analy township. It involves the loss of fourteen goslings valued at $8.75 as per the market price in May last when the goslings disappeared. Twelve witnesses were examined, and the costs will amount to $100 for either side, says the Democrat. James Robertson and John Slattery have farms adjoining each other near Sebastopol. Mr. Robertson claims that fourteen goslings left his farm on May 16th, and were last seen on the Slattery farm. Therefore he wants Mr. Slattery to return the goslings or pay him the amount of their market value. Mr. Slattery refuses to do this, stating that he knows nothing of the goslings. The justice reserved his decision. Attorney Saunders of Sebastopol was attorney for the plaintiff and A. G. Burnett for the defendant.

PEACE DECLARED.—Rumors are abroad that Huntington will give up the fight by giving up the Pullman cars. The traveling public will be pleased to know that in some way or other they can get across the country again. We can give up many of the little luxuries if we only try; but there is one thing we can't give up—the luxury of cream for our coffee, furnished strictly on time by V. Riedi of the Excelsior dairy.

INQUESTS.—Two inquests were held on the body of Mrs. Meyer, who died by suicide by drowning in Petaluma creek. This appears to be a regular occurrence at Petaluma, and is the double inquest held there during the present year. It puts the county to needless expense and cannot be justified on any ground, so long as the county commissioners does not consent to the substitution of any township officer for himself to perform that duty. It is, in fact, an usurpation of the rights of his office, and should not occur again. Coroner Uggewitter is an active, efficient officer, and it would be undignified and unwarranted if he waived his rights simply because some one else was pleased to usurp them.—Democrat.

BOOM THE RAILROAD.—Sebastopol is again agitating the electric railroad scheme with hope to construct a line from that place to tidewater at Petaluma. The Green Valley people propose to then extend the road to their vicinity. Many prominent business men think that it would be a paying investment, citing in evidence the immense and constantly increasing fruit, hop and dairy products of this region. A number of Petaluma capitalists are interested in the matter and will invest their money in it. The electric railroad will be sixteen miles long. The right of way for ten miles has been secured.

"I confess to sharing in this feeling and yet it seems to me we ought, if possible, as sufficiently free ourselves from prejudice to enable us to coolly weigh considerations which in formulating legislation ought to guide our treatment of sugar as a taxable article.

"While no tenderness should be entertained for trusts, and while I am decidedly opposed to granting them, in the guise of tariff taxation, any opportunity to further their particular method I suggest we ought not to be driven from Democratic principle and policy which led to the taxation of sugar by fear, quite likely exaggerated, the carrying out this principle and policy may directly and inordinately encourage the combination of sugar refining interests.

"I know in the present conditions this is a delicate subject, and I appreciate the depth and strength of the feeling which its treatment has aroused. I do not believe we should do evil that good may come, but it seems to me we should not forget our aim is the complete removal of the tariff, and in taxing sugar for protective purposes and within reasonable bounds whatever else may be said of our action we are in no danger of running counter to Democratic principles.

"With all there is at stake, there should be in the treatment of this article ground upon which we are all will stand, where toleration and conciliation may be allowed to solve a problem without demanding the entire surrender of fixed conscientious convictions."

IMPROVING THE SCHOOL BUILDING.—T. R. Jacobs, the architect, has advertised for bids for the relaying and strengthening of the joists of the second floor of the B street grammar school building. "I know an old soldier who had chronic diarrhoea of long standing to have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy," says Edward Shumpik, a prominent druggist of Minneapolis, Minn. "I have sold the remedy in this city for over seven years and consider it superior to any other medicine now on the market for bowel complaints." 25 and 50 cent bottles of this remedy for sale by Towne's drug store.

"I find it so difficult to keep the milk sweet these warm days, without a cellar or refrigerator," said the minister's wife to her neighbor, over the back fence. "Who is your milkman?" asked the little woman next door. "Oh, sometimes I have one, sometimes another," replied the housewife. "Well, do as I do—take it from Riedl and you will not have a bit of trouble." "I'll try him, as I've heard he always gives satisfaction and good measure." She kept her word, and now lives on the cream of the land.

M. M. Estee is now engaged, and that is why the platform upon which he was placed remained silent upon this subject of so much importance to the prosperity and advancement of the state.

On the other hand the Democratic state convention declared in favor of government control of railroads, and its candidate for governor expressed himself on that matter before it was made an issue in a state election and when he was not seeking votes, but was simply discharging his duty as a representative in congress from the second district. This was on the 10th of December, 1884, and here is what Mr. Budd said then:

"All remedies for railroad abuses other than railroad ownership have elsewhere proved inadequate, and ultimately this will be the solution everywhere. I do not mean the ownership of all railroads, but of a few trunk tracks crossing the country and kept in order by the government, over which at a low toll and under proper regulations, anyone can run a train of cars as they now can a boat upon the rivers."

This reads as though it might have been taken from a speech in support of the Democratic platform. Yet they were the views of the Democratic candidate for governor ten years ago, when he could have had no purpose in changing his ideas to catch the popular breeze.

Dan Burns' convention didn't have anything to say about the matter when he was "herding" the Republican delegates "like a lot of Mexican peons," as was charged at the time by a Republican paper, and it was not until the mass of the people seemed very much worked up on the question that Mr. Estee opened his mouth on it.

And now it is related by the Fresno Expositor that when Estee was before the people two years ago as their candidate for the United States senate against Things Lively.

A movement is on foot among a number of prominent horsemen and business men in Petaluma, to have held in the city, the annual race meeting of the Pacific coast trotting and breeding horse association, beginning October 25th and continuing for ten days. As yet the association is undecided where to hold the last great, circuit, blood horse, wind-up races this year, and several cities have made cash offers for the association to hold the meeting in those respective cities. Among them are San Jose, Napa and Stockton. Santa Rosa will probably make an offer, and Petaluma is now working. The San Francisco and Oakland racetracks will not be in proper condition for trotting races during October, on account of the running horse meetings.

W. E. Bowen the enterprising lessee of the Sonoma and Marin Agricultural park will donate to the association, the track, grounds and all the privileges of pool selling, bar etc, if the members desire to come here.

Heroic Miners.

WESTVILLE, N. S., Nov. 21.—The Aca- dian mine was discovered to be on fire about 8 o'clock last evening. All the buildings around the pit, with the excep- tion of the blacksmith shop, were totally destroyed. About fifty men were work- ing in the mine at the time, and the tele- phone connections not being in order, men had to be sent down the slope to notify the miners, who were 4000 feet from the surface. The men all got out of the pit about 9 o'clock in an exhausted condition. The men who went into the pit to assist the miners in their ascent were injured by the cage running away, to the treacherous bar across which the schooner ventured, on the advice, so the captain says, of a pilot who was spoken outside.

The Military Hop

The second military hop of this season's series given by Co. C, Fifth Infantry Regiment at its armory on Monday evening drew one of the largest crowds that ever assembled within its spacious halls, and the party was one of the most pleasant ever given by the popular organization.

At 8:30 Captain Thos. Maclay had his men in line and put them through a good drill, the boys in blue executing every movement with precision, while the appearance of the company was excellent.

At 9 o'clock dancing was inaugurated to music furnished by Newburgh and Smith, and was continued until midnight, which arrived only too soon for the light-hearted and merry dancers who voted the affair a success in every respect.

Sergeant A. H. Cassidy and Private Charles Peck managed the floor in a most efficient manner, and much of the pleasure of the affair is due to their efforts.

The Co. C hops are more successful and better attended this year than they have ever been before.

The catchers say that the rain has enghungered the brutes so that they venture nearer to the homesteads than usual. One extra large one was caught in a steel trap by A. H. At the conclusion of the installation ceremonies, all present were invited to the club hall on the upper floor of the building where the ladies of Morning Star Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, had prepared a banquet, more elaborate in detail than any ever arranged in Petaluma.

The huge tables, beautifully decorated and groaning beneath their burden of good things, were temptingly arranged, and half a dozen of the young ladies of the chapter attended to the wants of those gathered round the board.

Prof. E. S. Lippitt with his usual wit and grace presided at the banquet table, and assisted in making the affair a pleasant one for all, while brief but eloquent remarks were made by W. M., C. O. Perkins and W. M., F. K. Lippitt; Rev. W. H. Darden, Rev. John Partridge and Wm. B. Haskell.

It was nearly midnight when the merry guests left the banquet table, all voting the event one of the most pleasant in the annals of local masonry.

The Vineyards of Anap.

In the report of the State Viticultural Commissioners for 1893-4 the district comprising Sonoma county is subdivided into five smaller districts, Petaluma and Anap townships being the second district.

According to the state report there are ninety-seven vineyards in this district, with a total area in vines of 1869 acres. The acreage in bearing is given at 1841 acres, showing that new settings of any consequence have not been made for some time. There are 83 1/2 acres in wine grapes and 32 1/2 acres in table grapes. One acre is devoted to raisin grapes. For 1892 the crop was 5000 tons the cooperage 267,050 gallons.

A Sudden Death.

E. F. Matthews, the well known blacksmith of Sebastopol, was suddenly stricken with apoplectic rheumatism Monday morning and died at 2.30 o'clock on the afternoon of the same day.

The deceased arose at the accustomed hour Monday morning, apparently as well as usual, and after killing a turkey for Christmas dinner, he came to breakfast, but before seating himself at the table he said he felt bad, as though he was going to die, and was suddenly taken with the disease and rendered unconscious. Dr. J. W. Cline was summoned to his bedside, but the sufferer was beyond medical aid.

Mr. Matthews was held in high esteem by the citizens of Sebastopol and his sudden death was a shock to the entire community. He belonged to the Masonic order and was buried by his brethren on Wednesday in the Sebastopol cemetery, a large number of friends and sympathizers following the remains to the grave.

Too Small an Apportionment.

There seems to be prospects of a little breeze over the action of the board of supervisors in their attempt to cut down the apportionment of moneys for the public schools for the coming year, says the Republican. Last year at this time the apportionment from the first installment of taxes yielded the schools $35,683 33. This year from the same source comes only $27,952 28. The law, as the state superintendent construes it, says that the supervisors shall give the schools not less than the minimum allowance, which is $6 per census child. As there are 8,896 census children the amount then should be $53,376, whereas County Superintendent Martin says that by the way the supervisors are proposing to figure it, it will be much less. The state superintendent says the supervisors have no authority to deduct the balance found

Can it be the manufacturers of a New claims? That would be strange indeed, inasmuch as they were not even consid-

Was it Ammonia in the New York competing? If not, what?

News items are rather scarce in these parts.

The rain is still falling and up to this time there seems to be no indication of its stopping. It has damaged the roads very much by filling up the side ditches and overflowing the road bed, cutting it away. The branch of the North Pacific railroad was washed out just east of the trestle across the lagoon for three or four hundred yards, but it has been repaired again.

The wind storm of Thursday night of last week, blew down the frame work of the new planing mill, owned by Strout & Thompson, causing considerable damage to its owners.

On New Year's day the people of Sebastopol were treated to an old fashioned horse race up its principal streets, which caused considerable excitement and amusement to all. It is said the 22d of February will witness another scene similar to this one, so the sports are looking for plug horses for a surprise to somebody.

The Assembly.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—In the assembly this morning another attempt was made to curtail the long list of unnecessary attaches. Price of Sonoma sought permission to call up for reconsideration the resolution under which appointments were made. It was ruled that a two-third vote would be required to bring the matter up again. By a vote of 37 yeas to 35 nays the assembly refused to permit a reconsideration and it is now assured that the 37 additional attaches appointed last Friday will continue to draw their fancy salaries. The senate will relieve the embarrassment of the county government by fixing the fees and salaries of the county officers was taken up and passed by a unanimous vote, after being slightly amended. Phelps, Chairman of the committee on Retrenchment and Public Expenditures, reported back half a dozen resolutions proposing retrenchment in all matters, with the recommendation that they be not adopted. Among the number was Bledsoe's resolution for the appointment of a special committee of seven to ascertain whether the needless state officers and commissions might not be consolidated or abolished. The Committee on Retrenchment did, however, recommend the adoption of a resolution appropriating $25 to each member for contingent expenses. All of the recommendations were adopted.

BEFORE MATCHES CAME.

The Flint and Steel and Rushlights and Tallow Dips of Our Ancestors.

To the present generation it may seem next door to the incredible that in the first years of the reign of William IV there were no lucifer matches. In lieu thereof there were only long matches or splints of wood tipped at each end with melted sulphur, and before the complicated system of dipping the sulphureted match in concentrated sulphuric acid came into use these matches were kindled first by striking a light with flint and steel and then causing the spark to ignite a small quantity of tinder, an inflammable substance usually composed of partially burned linen.

This simple adjunct to the process of obtaining a light had been in use all over the world from time immemorial. The French tinder was called "amadou," a word the etymology of which has been fiercely contested, some philologists deriving it from the old French adjective "amadou," equivalent to amorous, and conveying the moral idea of the sweetly agreeable sensation of the hand coming in contact with a very soft substance, while others trace it to the Latin "ad manum dulce." The French tinder was often made of the spongy portions of mushrooms and other fungi, and prior to the introduction of lucifer matches the manufacture of amadou was one of considerable importance. The cryptogamic substance was beaten on a block somewhat after the manner of felt until it became homogeneous, and it was then impregnated with a solution of salts of niter or simply pulverized gunpowder. The Germans still fabricate a delicate kind of amadou which is used in surgery for stanching hemorrhage. As for flint and steel, they have as completely faded out from our domestic economy as they have from firearms, and the tinder box is so rarely seen that it might well be included in an exhibition of old social curios.

With tinder and tinder boxes has also vanished the rushlight which, when William Cobbett was a boy, English cottagers used to make for themselves by gathering rushes and dipping them successively in melted tallow until sufficient thick adipose matter was obtained. In houses where refinement was supposed to prevail the rushlight was invariably placed in a japanned tin shade perforated with circular orifices, and the insomolent invalid had the pleasure of contemplating a large number of round spots of light on the ceiling, reflected from the rushlight screen. "Dips," another form of tallow candle, much given to sputtering, which smelled abominably, have also died the death, and "mold candles," which strove to emulate wax ones in their form, but hardly succeeded in doing so, have almost as happily and as lightly giving as the old and costly spermaceti. Seventy years ago gas was little used. There were no railroads, few steamboats and no lucifer matches; yet, as Mr. Walter Besant might put it, the world went very well then.

APOLGIZED FOR INTRUDING.

IT WAS A BIG ONE.

Yesterday's Storm the Most Severe of the Season.

GREAT DAMAGE IS REPORTED

Trains Delayed and Business Suspended in Many Localities—Rainfall for the Season.

Monday's rain and wind, although severe was not as disastrous as Tuesday's big storm, and as reports of the damage wrought reaches this city it will be seen that the loss will be no small amount, to say nothing of the danger and inconvenience suffered by the people.

Reports received from many parts of the bounty state that hundreds of acres of land are under water. Roads have disappeared in many places and the bridges are known only by the music made by the seething waters as they rush through them on their way to the turbulent sea.

From Guerneville came the news Tuesday that the entire lower part of the town was under water; that people were moving out of the houses in that section as fast as they could. Parts of the town which had hitherto escaped the waters were reported being gradually surrounded by the floods. The railroad was said to be under five feet of water and the train on the Guerneville branch of the Donahue road did not attempt to make its trip to connect with the through train.

The Sebastopol country was reported having its full share of the floods. The Laguna was pictured as being miles wide in places and the Sebastopol branch train, owing to its inability to travel without boats, did not attempt to do its duty. When the waters subside a good deal of track will no doubt be found to be in need of important repairs.

The Healdsburg bridge was considered unsafe and up to the time of writing no train has crossed since Monday, all traffic above Santa Rosa being suspended. Healdsburg and Cloverdale were under water and there are many washouts along the line of the railroad, while crops have been washed out and fencing destroyed in many places.

The roads in many places have disappeared and the Bloomfield and Valley Ford stage, yesterday experienced great difficulty in reaching town and did not start on the return trip until today.

In this city the water also played havoc and Petaluma was yesterday jokingly called "New Venice." The water poured across Washington street shortly before

EDITOR COURIER:—The water has done much damage to the railroad, as the track is under water for nearly a mile, and no trains came over today, for our local train is water-bound here.

The road on the hill near the cemetery is absolutely impassable, as the bottom of the road dropped out, and a horse cannot even pass over it.

Sebastopol is now supporting a library and reading room where many of the young people go to spend their evenings.

It is now an assured fact that the cannery will run this season. Messrs.
Hotchkiss and Miller are the gentlemen who will have charge of it; and as they are experienced men in the business it will no doubt be a success, and will be of much benefit to Sebastopol and vicinity.

Sebastopol Jottings.

SEBASTOPOL, February 6, 1895.

The weather is fine and everyone is enjoying the sunshine.

School opened in Pleasant Hill last Monday with a good attendance. Mr. Lorenzo Mock is the teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Williams have moved on their ranch near town and Mr. Mock and family will occupy their town house.

The new planing mill is progressing rapidly.

The children of Sebastopol were surprised to see a horse drawing one of Mr. Aaron Barnes' houses up Main street. The house is to be used for a bakery and laundry.

The friends of Henry Elphick are glad to see him around again after quite an attack of sciatica.

The orchard men are busy with their pruning.

David Burroughs and wife (nee Hattie Solomon) have returned from Yuba county. Mr. Burroughs will manage a part of the business of the firm of Burroughs & Co., Sebastopol.

Sebastopol's depot agent has taken unto himself a wife.

Hotchkiss and Miller have leased the Sebastopol cannery for five years. This is good news for many in Sebastopol and vicinity.

Mrs. T. B. Ward with her babe has returned to Sebastopol.

Sebastopol has a reading room; many boys and girls find pleasant pastime within its walls.

The roads in the vicinity of Sebastopol have been repaired since the storm.

"Uncle" John Walker Dead.
"Uncle" John Walker, one of the first settlers in California, died at his home near Sebastopol Saturday morning, Feb.
16th. Mr. Walker was a native of Jackson county, Missouri, and came across the plains with his father's family in 1840. At one time he owned nearly 4000 acres of the best valley land in Sonoma county. He was 69 years old. A grown family survives him. The interment took place on Sunday. Nearly two hundred teams were in the cortege. The congregation of friends could not be accommodated in the church and the services were held under the trees in the churchyard. The Rev. Dr. Avery Shepherd officiated.

They Wanted "Aid".

The flood of negro talk that lingo of our lowest classes, with distinction on account of race.

It is kitchen talk, as distinct from that of the parlor, and, although it may occasionally offer us a phrase having some philological or historical interest, it does not approach the dignity of a dialect. The badge of illiterate ignorance, without doubt, it even lacks the consistency with which some of our writers to invest it, for it recognizes no precedent and follows no analogy.

And yet the real lingo is no

It is sought to set it before us

THEY WERE RELEASED.

Bunco Men Could Not Be Held as the Principal One was Not Arrested.

W. Swan and James Fox, the men who tried to swindle Farmer and who were captured at San Francisco, were released Wednesday morning. The man who brought the horse to the stable in Santa Rosa is now reported to have been a confederate in the case of a hired man. He was on hand in Rafael Tuesday night, but as he did not want to be arrested, and away with the counterfeit "hoodle." Two men arrested made a confession to Harrison and admitted that they had invited Mr. Crane to take part in a game of cards. On being searched a few hundred dollars' worth of greenbacks were found in their possession. On advice of the district attorney of Marin county the men were released, and they departed for San Francisco.

Marshal Collins who returned Wednesday evening states that they are not the men who swindled Rancher Peters.

The new bill says in regard to hunting deer that every person in the state shall hunt, kill or destroy any male deer between the 15th day of October and the 15th day of July of the following year shall be guilty of a misdemeanor if male deer and spotted fawns must be killed at any time.

Anglers will be interested in the following changes made for the protection of game and fish. Any person who takes a striped bass of less than three pounds weight can be punished. Black bass protected between January 1st and April 1st. Trout of any kind must not be taken between the 1st day of November and the 1st day in April, excepting head trout taken with rod and reel any time in tidewater. Trout under six inches in length must not be sold. Young fish taken from streams must be returned at once. It is stated on authority that Governor Budd will veto the bill.

Notice to the Public.

The undersigned, trustees of the Pepper kindergarten of Petaluma, desire to state to the public of Petaluma that the Pepper kindergarten school, erected to be maintained by the munificence of Mr. W. H. Pepper, has been in successful operation for several months, and has met with unqualified approval of the citizens of our city.

The trustees upon opening the school considered that one teacher would be sufficient for some years to care for the children that would probably be born. We find, however, that we now have many children, whose parents reside in Petaluma, and that it is impossible for one teacher to properly care for and instruct so large a number. The income from the fund so kindly donated by Mr. Pepper for the purpose of carrying on the school is not sufficient to pay two teachers ten-months' schooling. We therefore call the attention of the parents whose children are now attending the school to the fact that a donation of some small amount to the fund would materially assist in maintaining the school for ten months of the year. We believe there are many such in Petaluma, who now having seen the needs of the school, will feel willing to donate such sum, from $15 to $30 a year to said fund, thereby relieving Distressing News.

Shortly after the 8:30 train had left for San Francisco this morning, J. B. Crawford received a telegram from the German hospital at San Francisco stating that the condition of Mrs. Crawford was very alarming and telling him to come to San Francisco at once.

Securing a fast team he started at once for San Rafael intending to catch a local for San Francisco. The many sincere friends of the family are awaiting news from the sick room with the greatest anxiety and are hoping almost against hope.

Obituary.

Mrs. Elizabeth Peckinpah died at her home in Madera county, February 16th, aged 82 years, five month and thirteen days says the Sebastopol Times. She leaves five sons and three daughters to mourn their loss—Mrs. R. G. Rowland of Pleasant Hill, Sonoma county, J. W., E. N., C. Peckinpah and Mrs. L. C. Berdin of North Fork, Madera county, T. E. Peckinpah and Mrs. White Fowler of Sonomish county, Washington.

Her remains were brought to Sebastopol, Thursday, February 21st, and the interment took place in Pleasant Hill cemetery, where her husband and children are buried. Elder G. W. Winter of Forestville conducted the funeral services in Pleasant Hill Chapel. The deceased crossed the plains and came to California in 1853, first settled in Santa Rosa valley, then in Bodega, Blucher valley, Alexander valley and Petaluma and Guerneville, from where she went

The Rain Fall.

Three-quarters of an inch of rain fell Tuesday night in Sonoma valley, which was most welcome and insures late cultivation in orchard and vineyard and a bountiful harvest of hay and grain and late feed for stock. Evidently the frost of last week damaged and apricots there will be a light crop. Peaches were evenly distributed and the frost saves the expense of thinning out fruit. This possibly will be better appreciated later on. Apples, pears, plums and grapes were not advanced sufficiently to receive injury from frost.

A TERRIBLE FATE.

The Awful Death of Wm. S. Pierce Last Evening

IN PRESENCE OF HUNDREDS.

He Touched a Live Wire and was Instantly Killed—Suspended in Mid Air.

The most horrifying accident in the history of Petaluma occurred shortly before 8 o'clock Thursday evening, when William S. Pierce of the Petaluma Electric Light and Power Company, the Pierce Telephone Company and President of the Dairymen's Union was instantly killed in the presence of hundreds of citizens who in their inability to assist their respected and prominent townsman went almost frantic with excitement. The accident occurred during a driving wind and rain storm.

Although a wealthy man, Mr. Pierce supervised his business, and during the entire afternoon had been driving around with an assistant looking to the wires in the city.

At ten minutes before 8 o'clock he arrived at the last pole which was to be inspected, a tall mast which stands in the plaza on Main street directly in front of the Cosmopolitan hotel.

His assistant, Will Coddling, climbed the pole, and had proceeded but a short distance when he received a slight shock from a guy wire which showed that the
